COURT FIGHT OVER SALE OF DODGE PLANT!

Legislature Ready For Contest!

HIGHWAYS AND EDUCATIONAL PROBLEMS AT MEET

State Lawmakers Prepare Big Issues: Gas War to Resume Monday

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—With the tentative date of adjournment three weeks distant, the forty-sixth Legislature has but two, or possibly three, major problems to dispose of.

Education and highway construction, the two functions of state government which top the list in expenditures, are scheduled to take up the greater part of the legislators' time during the remainder of the session.

The third possibility of a skirmish is legislative reapportionment, but there is every indication at this time that it has been tabled for another two years.

The highway financing program, which has become the leading question of the session, will come up for consideration again in the Senate revenue and taxation committee Monday night, of next week when the members of the State Highway commission are scheduled to appear in response to the Senate's request for information on the budgeting of road expenditures.

Senator Arthur H. Breed, author of the 3 cent gas tax bill, announced this morning that he had definite assurance the commissioners would heed the Senate and resolution and appear before the committee to submit information on an allocation of funds for road work.

On Tuesday, education will pop up as a live issue before the Assembly education committee.

Important Action
The week ending today brought final action on many important measures, a check showing the following outstanding developments in the two houses:

Approval by the Assembly of a bill providing for a $20,000,000 bond issue to continue the program of extending state aid to veterans in the purchase of farms and homes.

Passage by the Senate of the Finney resolution ratifying the Colorado river pact. This resolution had previously been approved in the Assembly.

Defeat in the Assembly of the Miller religious education bill. This act provided for the release of school children from one to three hours weekly to attend religious training classes.

Governor Signs
Signature by the governor of the state budget bill, carrying appropriations for the coming biennium of $159,000,000. This act.

Appointment Of De Monsie Stirs Senate

PARIS, April 4.—A wide divergence of opinion has developed in the Senate over the appointment of Anatole De Monsie as minister of finance to succeed Etienne Clementel, who resigned. The Senate left and the Democratic group, composing a majority of the Senate, met this afternoon to discuss the question. The opposition to De Monsie is based on his attitude toward the Vatican, he being in favor of establishing a French embassy there. Other members of the group were said to be strongly opposed to a capital levy, such as Premier Herriot is said to be contemplating. At the conclusion of the meeting a delegation was sent to confer with Herriot.

FRANCE PLANS REFORM LAW ON MONEY

Herriot's Plan Includes No Intention Of Floating Loans, Aides Say

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service.
PARIS, April 4.—Premier Herriot's policy on France's financial stringency was made clear today by a spokesman for the French foreign office. "The Herriot government has absolutely no thought of raising money by new loans, but in a few days, when it has satisfactorily balanced the budget, the government will propose financial reform laws which will include some sort of a long maturity tax on capital," said the spokesman to newspapermen. "Herriot is confident that if his government should fall," continued the spokesman, "his successor will be forced to settle financial questions in a businesslike manner."

"The cabinet will receive the suggestions of the new finance minister in regard to the Vatican with respectful attention. The French government, however, has no intention of sending a French ambassador to the Vatican. Herriot feels that if his cabinet must fall he prefers to have it go down on straightforward issues rather than to sidestep equivocal measures." Herriot, it was announced, will begin this afternoon a study of the reply France is to make to Germany in regard to a peace security pact.

A new financial project will be submitted to the cabinet Sunday. Finance Minister De Monsie announced. President Doumergue will preside at the cabinet meeting Tuesday, when the project will receive final approval. It then will be sent immediately to the Chamber of Deputies.

Wealthy Jap Mistakes Age And Kills Self

TOKIO, April 4.—Kipu Tajima, a wealthy farmer, believed himself to be only 89 years old while the records showed he was 91. On May 10 when the emperor of Japan celebrated his silver wedding all non-agenerians in the empire will receive medals. Tajima, convinced that the records were wrong and that he would be unable to change them, today dressed himself in his uniform and committed suicide before the decorated photographs of the emperor and empress, using the ancestral sword of his family. He left a note saying his act was committed rather than deceive the emperor.

RAIN DRENCHES STATE!

GIRL STRIKES AT INSANITY CHARGES

'Pack Of Lies,' Answer Of Dorothy Ellingson To Expert Testimony

By ELLIS H. MARTIN
For International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—"All a pack of lies!" This was the answer of Dorothy Ellingson, 16-year-old matricide, to the assertions of three alienists on the witness stand that she is insane. Her sanity trial was in recess today until Monday, Dr. Fred B. Clark, Dr. F. S. Marnell and Dr. Jan Don Ball, all psychiatrists of note were on record as declaring her insane. Dr. Clark declared she is suffering from dementia praecox. He likened her to a defective piece of wood or steel, which, put under stress, failed. Dorothy, he said, had gone to pieces under the stress of life. "Young people are strong," he said. "They breast the stream of life, play, live, indulge and for a time all is well. But they turn up like the flash of pitch if there is a defect there and strain is applied. There is an explosion—and well the defendant there is the best example of what happens." The youthful defendant heard herself described impersonally as "an organism" and dissected scientifically for the benefit of the jury.

BAY CITY WAITS FLEET'S ARRIVAL

Ninety-six Vessels On Way For Trip Through Golden Gate

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—While ninety-six ships, carrying 45,000 officers and men, sped up the coast from San Pedro, San Francisco prepared today to welcome the United States fleet, en route for maneuvers off Hawaii and Australia, when it moves through Golden Gate tomorrow morning. From all parts of the state, thousands were on their way here today to witness the spectacle of the mighty armada entering San Francisco bay.

With a reception for Admiral R. E. Conz by Mayor James Rolph, the only official event on tomorrow's welcoming program, the ships will be open to public visitation in the afternoon. Monday a naval parade, with a reception for the admiral and his staff following at the city hall, is scheduled.

The fleet will remain here until about the middle of the month, sailing then for a six months' cruise in far Pacific waters.

Engineer Killed When Train Misses Switch

PUEBLO, Colo., April 4.—Engineer Edwin Riley was killed and Fireman O. C. Smith seriously injured today when Denver & Rio Grande Western passenger train No. 16, eastbound, ran into an open switch near Canon City. The locomotive overturned, pinning the crew underneath. The baggage car and express left the tracks but remained upright. None of the passengers was hurt.

GIANT ROBBER GANG TAKEN IN BATTLE

Glendale Police Nip Planned Wholesale Looting When Spoils Are Split

A terrific battle staged in a bandit car near the Southern Pacific tracks and Los Feliz boulevard over the split of $1,400, the loot of the robbery of a grocery store at Dayton avenue and Ulysses street, Los Angeles, and quick work on the part of the Glendale police last night prevented wholesale robberies in local business houses. Today E. W. Swenk, 36, of 3536 Dayton avenue, is in jail after confessing to his share in the $1,400 theft, and police of Los Angeles and Glendale are searching for three other members of the band who are believed to have the major portion of the money. Swenk, given only $15 as his share of the grocery robbery, he told Chief of Police John D. Fraser, was badly mauled in the battle over division of the spoils and was thrown out of the machine near Los Feliz road and the Southern Pacific tracks.

Gang's Plans
The gang was to have assembled at the main postoffice in Los Angeles at 7 o'clock last night to swoop down on Glendale. Yesterday afternoon the band planned to "spot" the places in this city for the scene of their operations.

BELGIUM AND GERMANY SIGN TRADE TREATY
BERLIN, April 4.—The great world war faded further into the background of history when Germany and Belgium today signed a commercial treaty whereby commerce between the two nations will be resumed.

JAY GOULD SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS TITLE
BOSTON, April 4.—Jay Gould, of Philadelphia, national amateur court tennis champion for the past nineteen years, successfully defended his title this afternoon by defeating Roger W. Cutler of Boston in the challenge round of the annual tournament at the Tennis and Racquet club. The score was 6-0, 6-1, 6-0.

BLACK BEAR ESCAPES FROM OAKLAND ZOO
OAKLAND, April 4.—"Sadie," a big black bear from the city zoo, escaped during the height of a heavy rain today and took refuge in the foyer of an apartment house in the Lakeside apartment district. Scores of residents were in near panic when confronted by the bear. The police and zoo attendants induced "Sadie" to return to her cage, promising better weather.

MUSSOLINI IS APPOINTED WAR MINISTER
ROME, April 4.—Premier Mussolini was appointed by King Victor Emmanuel today as war minister ad interim, following the resignation of War Minister Di Giorgio, whose army reform bill was withdrawn from the Senate yesterday by Mussolini. It was said that Mussolini also may take over the aviation and navy portfolio. This would make the fascist cabinet a one-man affair.

Judge Orders Rival to Let Woman Alone

SAN DIEGO, April 4.—The world moves on. Guns and fistcuffs in domestic relations are giving way to lawful remedies. When the suitor of his spouse began to beat his time at home, a husband took direct action today by placing a legal handicap against the love-making of his rival. Judge Andrews issued a writ restraining John A. Bachman, holding contractor, from speaking with the wife of John Raaka, North Island army air service man. The husband also filed a $15,000 suit for alienation of affections.

CONTINUE BIG TRACK MEET TO TUESDAY

Southern Conference Not Held Today; Plan to Select Star Team

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—The annual Southern California conference meet which was to take place in the Los Angeles Coliseum today, was postponed until next Tuesday because of the soggy condition of the track.

At the Tuesday meet an all-star conference team will be picked to represent Southern California in a triangular meet with the University of California and Wisconsin at Berkeley next Saturday.

Frisco Man Arrested On Fraud In Vienna

VIENNA, April 4.—Viennese police declared today the man arrested here posing as the "Duke of Braganza" was believed to be Charles John Drosner of San Francisco, whom they said was wanted in New York, Buenos Aires and Spain on fraud charges.

HEAVY STORM GREAT HELP TO CROPS

All Sections Receive Big Downpour; Mt. Wilson Gets 2.15 Inches

Rain fell in Glendale and vicinity the greater portion of last night and through this morning until 10 o'clock, adding 1.22 inches to the seasonal record, which now stands at 8.33 inches. According to H. E. Partlett of 333 West Broadway, local observer, the seasonal record one year ago today stood at seven inches. The sky is still threatening and predictions of dark clouds may be depended upon Glendale is likely to have more rain today and perhaps over Sunday.

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—The heavy rainstorm which swept upon Southern California early last night and continued unabated today, according to the United States weather bureau, may develop into the biggest storm of the season before it ends.

Mount Wilson, near here, received the astounding amount of 2.15 inches of rainfall, the heaviest reported from any Southern California station during the season, according to weather bureau figures.

Heavy rainfall was also reported from several other Southern points. Los Angeles had received .78 of an inch for the storm.

"Unsettled weather tonight and Sunday with probable occasional showers," was the official forecast.

Steady Rainfall Over Entire State Is Report

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—With rain falling steadily today over the entire state, weather bureau officials here predicted prospects were that the storm would continue tonight and tomorrow. The "million dollar" storm, bringing needed moisture to California's orchards and ranges, broke last night in the southern part of the state, which reported more than 65 of an inch of rain with more falling.

In San Francisco and vicinity the fall was heavier, more than one inch having been registered for the storm here early today. San Luis Obispo reported 1.68 inches; Merced 1.54; Santa Barbara 1.10, and Stockton 1.02.

Between Paso Robles and Santa Barbara inland to the mountains, heavy rains were reported, according to the weather bureau.

ROBBER SUSPECT TAKEN IN BATTLE

Federal Officers Wounded In Two-Hour Skirmish In Kentucky Woods

PARIS, Tenn., April 4.—Following a gun battle of more than an hour, during which he and two federal officers received minor wounds, Ernst Gallion, wanted for a $75,000 postoffice robbery in Mayfield, Ky., in October, 1923, was en route to Memphis today, in custody of United States deputy marshals. Gallion was recaptured near here last night, after he had barricaded himself in the woods and stood off half a score of officers until rifles of high power were brought into play.

Appointment Will Not Be Reconsidered

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Indicating that there will be no immediate attempt to reconsider the board's action yesterday in rejecting the nomination of William John Cooper, Fresno city school superintendent, as president of the San Jose State Teachers' college, the state Board of Education today confirmed the appointment of H. F. Minssen as acting president of the institution. The confirmation of Minssen's appointment came voluntarily, Will C. Wood, superintendent of public instruction, making no request that the board concur. Several members of the board indicated that the question of confirming Cooper's nomination might be reconsidered at the next quarterly meeting of the board. Under the rules of the board, such a move must be made by one of the four Richardson members who yesterday voted against confirmation.

WARREN GIVEN CHANCE FOR WEEKS' JOB

Detroit Turned Down For Attorney General May Get War Portfolio

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Charles B. Warren, of Detroit, whom the Senate "turned down" as President Coolidge's appointee to succeed Stone as attorney-general, again is pushed into the limelight of Washington political circles, as possible successor to Secretary of War John W. Weeks, whose illness resulting in a paralytic stroke Monday, is expected to hasten his intended resignation from the Coolidge cabinet.

A statement from his home at noon said Secretary Weeks is showing steady and continued improvement.

Should Secretary Weeks resign and it seems possible some time before June 30, President Coolidge will have an opportunity to again appoint Warren to his cabinet, should he desire, and should Warren be willing. In the savage fight on the appointment as attorney-general several of his opponents declared they would approve Warren for any other post in the cabinet except that of attorney-general.

If Warren wants "vindication" for his having been twice defeated in the Senate for the attorney-generalship, the belief prevails that President Coolidge would offer it to him. Further improvement was noted today in the condition of Secretary Weeks.

Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman from New York who is among those most prominently mentioned as likely successor to Weeks, was at the White House this morning and his presence there led to the reports that he has already been selected by the president to take the war portfolio.

Evolution as Theory Given School Place

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Evolution as a theory may be taught in California schools but not as a fact. This decision was reached today by the state Board of Education terminating a heated controversy that has raged for months between fundamentalists and liberals of the clergy over the teaching of the Darwinian theory in the public schools. "Resolved, that it is the policy of this board to list no books that teach evolution other than as a theory," was the language employed by the board in settling the dispute.

SON CUT OFF IN WILL TO SEEK PART OF HUGE PROFITS

John Duval Dodge Brings Action: Says Heirs Not Properly Protected

DETROIT, April 4.—Judge Harry J. Dingeman today refused to halt the sale of Dodge Brothers' automobile plant to the New York banking firm of Dillon, Read & Co., as asked by John Duval Dodge, who alleges the heirs are not being protected.

He did issue an order to show cause why a temporary injunction against the sale should not be granted, setting Wednesday as the date for the hearing on this petition.

The action to stop the sale was taken by John Duval Dodge, son of the late John F. Dodge. Young Dodge was cut off in his father's will. Through his attorney, Alfred Lucking, Dodge applied for an injunction which asked that Matilda Dodge and others of the Dodge family be restrained from transferring the property.

This plea was denied. The order to show cause was then issued. When it was announced that Wall Street was buying Dodge Brothers, the second largest automobile factory in the world, for a figure of more than $100,000,000, to those familiar with the late Dodge Brothers and their heirs there came the instantaneous question:

"I wonder if John Duval Dodge, who was cut off in his father's will and later agreed to settle his claim, in part, at least, for $2,000,000, will seek any of the profits of this sale?"

Young Dodge will answer that question in the affirmative when his attorney, William Lucking, appears in circuit court today and files a petition that Matilda R. Dodge, widow of the deceased manufacturer, be restrained from disposing of the estate of Anna Margaret Dodge, it was said.

Anna Margaret Dodge was the 4-year-old sister, deceased, of John Duval Dodge. She was not provided for in the will of John F. Dodge, as it was made before her birth. Around this child there centers a legal contention that is lost to technicalities. According to Lucking, there will be a keen battle to determine the rightful heirs to Anna's estate.

Seeks Settlement
It is young Dodge's contention that he should get one-fifth of

RESUME INQUEST IN CASE MONDAY

Coroner to Continue Probe In M'Clintock Death; Hear Poison Report

CHICAGO, April 4.—Renewed interest was given to the typhoid murder case today with the announcement that the coroner's inquest into the death of Billy McClintock, for which William D. Shepherd and "Dr." Charles C. Faiman have been indicted, will be resumed Wednesday. At the same time it became known that the report on tests for poisons made on the bodies of Emma Nelson McClintock and Dr. Oscar Olson will be submitted to Coroner Wolff at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. Whether a preliminary report of the coroner's physician was of a nature that precipitated the re-opening of the inquest could not be learned. Meantime Shepherd's attorneys are preparing to take their effort to obtain bail for their client to the supreme court. Bail three times has been denied Shepherd in the lower courts.

AIRPLANE CRASH ON NEW CARRIER

Machine Wrecked But Pilot Not Injured In Landing On Ship's Deck

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The first serious accident suffered by the navy in landing planes on an airplane carrier at sea occurred yesterday off San Pedro, Cal., when Lieutenant J. B. Price, who escaped unhurt, completely wrecked his plane while attempting to land on the deck of the U. S. S. of this character, the dispatch received by the navy department today. Besides being the first accident of this character, the dispatch stated, it is also singular because of the fact that Price was unhurt and the plane completely demolished.

SCHNEIDER HEADS CHAMBER
EL CENTRO, April 4.—Gordon Schneider of Holtville was elected president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Imperial valley, succeeding C. S. Scott. Dale Cooper of Holtville was elected secretary to succeed Hazel E. Meadows. The first vice-president is Ben Hulise of Imperial and the second vice-president P. W. Meyers of California. A committee is to be named to meet with the Calexico Chamber of Commerce to request that body to reconsider its action in withdrawing from membership in the Associated Chambers of Commerce.

LETTUCE IS SHIPPED
EL CENTRO, April 4.—With nearly 8500 carloads of lettuce shipped from Imperial valley to date this season, the annual lettuce harvest is nearing its end. Heavy daily shipments for the past week have sent the market downward, but it is believed it will rise again after the supply has decreased toward the last of the harvest.

G. O. P. CLUB FORMED
BAKERSFIELD, April 4.—With the women upholding the standard of Republicanism, approximately half a hundred men and women of Republican affiliations gathered at Tegeler when the women's Republican club of Kern county was organized, with Mrs. Dennis Atkins as president. The principal speaker was Miss Nellie E. Kelley of Los Angeles, state organizer of the Republican Women's federation of California.

CHARTER CELEBRATION
RIVERSIDE, April 4.—Charter celebration for the Riverside Exchange club will be held at Mission Inn April 25. The local club is to in part representatives from Southern California's more than twenty other Exchange clubs. State and national officers also expect to attend. Among the visitors will be Dr. George Sablchi, Bakersfield, national president of the Exchange club.

BEST WALNUT CROP
SANTA ANA, April 4.—The walnut crop this year will be the best in history of the industry, according to experts. Reports are coming from all sections of Southern California that the prospects for the heaviest crop are exceedingly bright. The trees are in a satisfactory condition and the nuts are setting satisfactorily.

OIL PRODUCTION
HOUSTON, April 4.—Crude oil production in the Gulf Coast and South Texas fields the past week averaged 162,260 barrels a day, an increase of 2,875 barrels. Eight new producers were brought in in the coastal field.

GOVERNOR FAILS TO PLEASE WOMEN

Feminine Lawmakers Revolt At Effort to Give Them Nice Jobs

By GIL A. COWAN
For Southland News Service
Special to the Evening News.
SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Some composer inscribed a bit of human nature when he wrote: "What I want, I can't get. What I get, I don't want." The women of the state of California want a whole handful of laws. Likewise, they don't want any handed. And, anyway, they don't want the governor playing politics at a tea party.

He introduced a bill calling for a committee of nine women to investigate conditions relative to women and children's welfare. The governor was to appoint the committee.
That line of action didn't set well with women members of the Assembly. They are considering the qualifications of "governors." It is hinted. And, anyway, they didn't want the governor playing politics at a tea party.

Bill Is Beaten
During the course of events the bill bumped down to the floor of the Assembly. Assemblywoman Esto Broughton of Modesto, midwest member of the House, burst forth with gusto on the subject that the measure was purely political. Dr. Woodbridge's good wife Cora, who hails from Roseville, arose in a motherly way and declared the committee unnecessary.

And then Assemblyman Robert McPherson, administration leader in the ways and means committee, talked, to which the great San Francisco progressive leader replied and dubbed his friend "the crown prince." Rosenshine even inferred there was nothing constructive in the governor's last message and he didn't think the women's committee would do much.

So the bill was beaten Wednesday afternoon 22 to 49, even administration members feeling it unwise to give the women what they don't want, when they can't get what they want.

$70,000,000 USED FOR STATE ROADS

This Amount Was Expended Last Five Years Says Comptroller Report

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Approximately $70,000,000 has been expended on state highways during the five-year period ending with 1924, according to figures by State Comptroller Ray L. Riley. "The total is $60,746,250.95, of which the largest disbursement in a yearly period was in the fiscal year 1922-23, when $18,127,473.17 was expended on new construction and maintenance.

Revenues for highway work during the five-year period averaged $14,000,000 annually.

Forecasting revenues for the two-year period July, 1925 to July 1927, the state controller estimates a total of $33,510,000, divided as follows: Gas tax, $16,740,000; motor vehicle tax, $7,740,000; four per cent transportation tax, $1,500,000; federal government aid, $5,000,000; balance on hand July 1, 1925, $2,500,000.

These estimates, said Mr. Riley, are based upon the present 2-cent gasoline tax returns, and show an average income of $16,755,000 per annum as compared with $14,000,000 per annum for the past five years.

Oakland Mining Expert Suicide At Monterey

SALINAS, Calif., April 4.—The body of the man found in Monterey last Tuesday in the woods east of the highway was identified today as Reeves Davis, 51, Oakland mining engineer. Mrs. Davis, wife of the dead man, made the identification. Authorities are convinced that Davis committed suicide by taking cyanide, which he is said to have obtained from his own laboratory in Oakland. According to Mrs. Davis, her husband left home March 22, saying he would return late that evening.

BURBANK MAY GET BIG EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION

SUSPECT HELD IN PASSING OF CHECKS

Total Of $96 Obtained From Glendale Merchants By Long Beach Youth

Paul E. Howard, 22, Long Beach youth arrested yesterday, after he had given alleged fictitious checks totaling $96 to Glendale merchants, will be formally charged with passing checks without sufficient funds, following completion of an investigation by police and the Glendale Merchants' association.

Prosecution will be handled through the office of District Attorney Asa Keyes, to include had checks he is said to have confessed yesterday to passing in Hollywood, Los Angeles and Long Beach. Howard confessed yesterday afternoon, police said, that he had stolen an extra pair of license plates for use when attempting to cash fictitious checks.

Merchants Suffer

Checks issued here included: Park Avenue pharmacy, $26; Lang drug store, $24; Brown Drug Co., $22; Winters Jewelry Co., $12, and Western Auto Supply Co., $12. Howard is being held today in the Glendale city jail.

His arrest followed the recent formation of a special committee of the Merchants' association to check on suspicious checks of Glendale merchants and to cooperate with the police department to obtain the capture of the check-passer. A special fund is also being created by the Merchants' association whereby members will donate $1 each to be used to reimburse business men who suffer loss on bad checks. The merchant who refuses to prosecute a criminal action, however, will not be reimbursed.

DANGER in the "Stale Will"

LAWS relating to disposal of property by Will are constantly changing.

A "good Will" prepared, as Wills should be, by a competent lawyer, perfectly valid when drawn—might be of no effect if presented for probate today, because of changes in circumstances or changes in laws, or because made in another State before you came to California.

It is a wise thing to name Security Bank as your Executor. Make that the occasion of having your Will looked over and made modern, legal and effective.

Come in to the Glendale Branch and discuss this important matter with the local Trust Officer.

La Halla Temple No. 122, Pythian Sisters, were hosts to the twenty-first annual convention of district 17, Pythian Sisters held yesterday afternoon and night at the Knights of Pythias hall, corner of South Brand boulevard and Park avenue. The convention was attended by 280 delegates and representatives from the following cities of the district: Long Beach, Los Angeles, Santa Monica, Monrovia, Alhambra, Tustin and Van Nuys. Other temples represented were Santa Bernardino, Riverside, Dayton, Iowa, Santa Barbara, Oakland, Hollywood, San Diego and Belvedere.

Initiation of three candidates was held with officers of La Halla temple in charge. Candidates initiated were: Mrs. Stanley Long of Los Angeles, Marion Beaton and George Beaton. Mrs. Maile King was elected delegate to the Grand temple, which will be held next month at Oakland. Mrs. Haines was elected alternate. During the afternoon session Mrs. Leila Tilden of Van Nuys was elected secretary of the district, and Mrs. Lena M. Thomas was re-elected treasurer.

Officers Present

Mrs. Anna Broughton told of the Pythian Home, which is located at the Valley of the Moon in the northern part of the state. Mrs. Bessie Biddle, grand chief, made her official visit to the lodge. Mrs. May Richards of Long Beach, grand junior chief, Corinne Mitchell, grand protector, and Ursula Joffe, district deputy, were also present. Mrs. Biddle was presented with a cut-glass dish and bouquet of flowers from La Halla temple, the presentation being made by Mrs. Melissa K. Dickson, most excellent chief.

Many flowers from other temples were presented to Mrs. Biddle. Mrs. Ursula Joffe, district deputy, was also presented with a basket of flowers from La Halla temple, and Mrs. Leila Tilden, district secretary, presented her with a bouquet. Long Beach degree staff put on a fancy drill and also floor work. A banquet for the delegates attending the convention was served at 6:30 o'clock at Tropic Presbyterian church.

BLOUNT'S CAFE TO HONOR BIRTHDAY

Popular Brand Eating Place Has Been In Operation For One Year

For one year Glendadians have been afforded the opportunity of eating at Blount's cafe, 136 1/2 North Brand boulevard, and tomorrow C. A. Blount, proprietor, plans to celebrate the first anniversary of the opening of his cafe with a special menu.

Last summer Mr. Blount staged an unusual fete in dining service when he had a large buffalo shipped to Glendale from Wyoming and buffalo steaks, buffalo roasts and buffalo chops were served to his patrons. During the year the cafe has been in operation it has been known as a place where first-class service is linked with wholesome, tempting food, prepared and served amid surroundings that bespeak cleanliness on every hand.

Endorses Candidacy Of Miss Ruth Kern

The Glendale Evening News is in receipt of the following self-explanatory communication from George E. Williams of Williams Dry Goods store, 103 North Brand:

Editor The Evening News—I wish to have the opportunity of endorsing in your paper the candidacy of Miss Ruth Kern for city treasurer. I know her to be a lady of very fine character and thoroughly capable of filling the duties of this office.

It was my good fortune to know Miss Kern's father back in Michigan, a man of sterling worth, a 32nd degree Mason, president of the Kern Manufacturing Co., and highly esteemed by those who knew him for his honor and integrity. Fortunate is the city whose funds are in the hands of the daughter of such a man.

Furthermore the endorsement of our old friend and pioneer, J. C. Sherer, is quite enough.

Thank you.

GEORGE E. WILLIAMS.

Praises Talk By Writer of Evening News

Mrs. O. H. Spradling, 347 West Garfield avenue, president of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teachers' association, expresses her thanks for an address delivered by Miss Katherine V. Sinks, of The Glendale Evening News editorial staff, in the following letter:

"The president of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teachers' associations wishes to express her personal appreciation of the talk given by Miss Katherine V. Sinks, your club editor, before the first district conference at Redondo recently. Her address is considered one of the most educational and interesting contributions to any conference program of the district. Not only Glendale, but all Parent-Teachers' associations throughout the district join in thanking both Miss Sinks and The Glendale Evening News."

HELEN KELLER GIVES TALK AT SCHOOL

Glendadians Contribute $500 For Fund To Aid Blind; Gives Vocal Solo

Glendale residents hearing Helen Keller speak last night at Broadway High school contributed approximately $500 to the American Foundation for the Blind, a cause for which Miss Keller is making a lecture tour of the various states.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, was the presiding officer at the affair, attended by a crowd that filled a goodly portion of the school auditorium. She introduced Charles C. Hayes, director of the foundation. Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president of Glendale Federation, Parent-Teachers' associations, introduced Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, life-long friend and teacher of Miss Keller.

Miss Keller was introduced by Mrs. Macy, and spoke briefly of her life and the proposed foundation of $2,000,000. The foundation is to be a national agency through which may be accomplished the standardization of education, the opening of new employment, the qualifying of teachers, the publication of embossed books, the study of preventive methods and other means of placing this and succeeding generations of blind on a better, higher plane.

Miss Keller sang "Nearer My God to Thee" with harp accompaniment by Enona Hopkins. Mrs. Hopkins, talented Glendale harpist, and David Whitford, young pianist, proteges of the Portland, Oregon, Lions' club, gave musical numbers.

An interesting incident was the meeting of Miss Keller and a young Glendale girl, who is deaf and was never able to speak until she was 16 years of age. Miss Keller talked at length with the girl and with reluctance told her goodbye. Mrs. Macy complimented the girl on her fine speaking ability and total quality of her voice.

SCOTS ARE TOLD OF RELIEF'S WORK

Near East Executive Speaks On Work Done Before Local Pyramid

The monthly business meeting of Glendale pyramid No. 39, Ancient Egyptian Order of Scots, at the Masonic temple last night, was featured by a concert by the Scots' band and an address on "Masonry" and the "Near East Relief" by Charles H. Emmons, a Near East director, now lecturing in Southern California. Mr. Emmons gave a graphic description of conditions in that ill-fated country, and spoke in terms of highest commendation of the American organized relief work and large sums of money unselfishly given by the American people to feed the starving and clothe the naked men and children in the Far East. His address was cordially received and earnestly applauded by the large number of men in attendance. As a result of the information given them, it is likely that Glendale Pyramid of Scots will undertake the care and education of at least one Armenian orphan child.

The Scots band was present for the first time since reorganization and furnished sweet music during the evening. William Osterman, of the Sawtelle Soldiers' home, has been engaged to lead the band for another year and was present last evening. Mr. Osterman is the man who organized this band two years ago, and soon after organization led the band to a first prize victory at the supreme pyramid session in San Diego in November of 1923 in competition with bands from nearly every city in California.

Masons Inducted
Two Master Masons were inducted into the mysteries of Scitoy—Alexander H. Lapham, Santa Fe railway clerk in the Los Angeles office, and Herbert M. Pilkington, a musician who is to play in the band.

Reports of committees showed much interest in the membership drive for the ceremonial to be held in May, when a class of 100 at least will be received into the pyramid.

Toparch Johnston and a number of others left Glendale at midnight to attend the ceremonial session of Fresno pyramid to be held tonight.

Arrangements were perfected for a mass meeting of Masons and Scots to be held in the Women's clubhouse at Burbank on the evening of April 16, when the Scots will be guests of Burbank Masonic lodge. Judge Thompson and A. Y. Tully of Los Angeles will be the speakers, and special entertainment will be provided. All Master Masons are invited.

LEGION WORK REPORTED AT MEET

Auxiliary Hears Head Of National Body; Local Members Attend

Mrs. O. D. Oliphant of Trenton, N. J., national president of American Legion auxiliary, was honored guest and speaker yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the County Council of American Legion auxiliaries held at Clark hotel in Los Angeles. Delegates from Glendale auxiliary were: Mrs. James F. McBryde, Mrs. E. W. Hayward and Mrs. Nellie Snow Hyer.

At the meeting of Glendale auxiliary held last night at the offices of James F. McBryde, 111 East Broadway, Mrs. James F. McBryde reported. Mrs. Oliphant outlined the work of American Legion auxiliaries, stating that the four big issues were: Rehabilitation, child welfare, Americanism and legislation. She stated that the casualty list of the World War was growing every day and that in every 24 hours, fifteen men were added to this list.

Mrs. Oliphant also said that in the first three months that the Reed Johnson bill was in operation $4,000,000 was placed in the hands of ex-service men. Sixty per cent of the men shell-shocked during the World War have been cured during the past year in the new hospitals established for that purpose. She said 5000 children of ex-service men in the United States were in need and that Mack McKee, national chairman of Child Welfare for the American Legion, had eight children of his own and had adopted three orphans.

Glendale's Work

Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, president, presided at the meeting last night when Mrs. Nellie Snow Hyer, hospital chairman, reported. Glendale auxiliary has adopted ward twenty-eight, in which there are twenty-five men, eighteen of these being World War men. Mrs. Gilliland and Mrs. E. W. Hayward are in charge of arrangements to send fresh eggs and potted plants to men in the ward for Easter.

Mrs. L. T. Rowley, recently appointed to have charge of child welfare work, stated that Mrs. Ruth Vedder, district chairman, had written for $10 and members voted to send the money for child welfare work. At the joint meeting of American Legion auxiliary and Glendale post No. 127, American Legion, on April 24, Mrs. James F. McBryde will be in charge. Mrs. Bertha Chase Dobbs, president of county council, will be present and speak on "Child Welfare." Auxiliaries and posts of several surrounding towns will be invited to attend the meeting.

Plans were also announced at the county council meeting for a luncheon to be given for Mrs. Stewart, national district vice-president, Tuesday afternoon, at the Mary Louise tearoom in Los Angeles. Mrs. Gilliland requested that members assist Mrs. John Edmonds White with Red Cross sewing on the third Wednesday of each month.

Rev. Edmonds Talks At W. C. T. U. Civic Meet

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of Glendale Presbyterian church, was speaker yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the W. C. T. U., held in the home of Mrs. Pierson Hanning at 235 North Orange street. He stressed civic affairs and coming city election. Mrs. Paul Elliott sang. Guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Cook, missionaries from India; Mrs. C. W. Bacon, president, was in charge; Mrs. Ruby Smart, superintendent of the legislative department, gave a report. Mrs. J. H. Daugherty, superintendent of scientific temperance instruction, reported 867 essays had been written on temperance subjects by pupils in the grammar grades and that out of this number 150 had been selected and placed in the hands of the committee. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Waller.

Missionary Alliance Plans Week of Prayer

Passion week at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church will be observed as a week of prayer with special services each night at 7:30 o'clock. The week is observed by the congregation in preparation for the annual foreign missionary offering which will be taken on Easter Sunday. Special prayer services will be held for each field of the church's work in foreign countries. Letters from missionaries of the Christian and Missionary Alliance church will be read, some of the letters being from Rev. Thomas Moseley of Tibet, Rev. George Simmons of Ecuador, Rev. Philip Hinkley of China and Rev. Thomas Francis of Japan.

ment will be provided. All Master Masons are invited.

President

MRS. O. D. Oliphant, of Trenton, N. J., national president of American Legion Auxiliary, who was honored yesterday afternoon at a luncheon given in Los Angeles by the County Council of American Legion Auxiliaries. Mrs. Oliphant was speaker for the afternoon, and told of the work of the American Legion Auxiliary.

MONTHLY DINNER HELD BY LODGE

Foresters Gather For Social Event Last Night At Odd Fellows' Hall

Members and friends of Glendale court, Independent Order of Foresters, were present last night for the monthly social dinner and meeting, held at Odd Fellows' hall, 201 West Broadway. Gould H. Warren, chief ranger, was master of ceremonies and presided at the business meeting.

At 7 o'clock a pot-luck dinner was served, fifty people being seated at tables arranged in the banquet hall. Eighteen members were admitted to membership at the business session.

Members of the professional department of Emerson School of Self-Expression presented the following program: Piano solo, "Love's Dream," Miss Besse Long; monologue, "Mrs. Bisby's Pink Tea," Mrs. Martha Hunter; tenor solo, A. C. Comfort, with Miss Besse Long accompanist; reading, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," Mrs. Retta Rhodes; monologue, "Mrs. Trouble's Troubles," Miss Besse Long; playlet, "Mrs. Oakley's Telephone," cast, Mrs. Martha Hunter, Mrs. Retta Rhodes and Mrs. G. Edwin Murphy. Encores were responded to: Miss Isabel Yates, lyric soprano, and pupil of Mrs. Virginia Freeman, sang two selections, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Maud H. Yates, both members of the court.

At the next meeting, on April 17, those admitted to membership last night will be initiated and given instruction in the work of the order.

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE AT DINNER MEETING

Community Will Become Scholastic Hub Of Metropolitan Area If Plans Suggested Are Carried Out

In the loss of University of California, southern branch, to Burbank, that city may have been the victor rather than the loser and may yet be destined to become the hub of scholastic life for the metropolitan area of Los Angeles through the establishment of another great institution there.

This was made known at a dinner meeting of officials of Glendale, Burbank and other valley cities at Burbank last night when the bond of mutual friendship and co-operation between the cities was strengthened by a dozen noteworthy speakers who addressed the gathering. After the meeting the valley as a whole stood pledged to assist Burbank in her efforts.

Details of further university plans of Burbank were withheld from publication although it was stated by Larry H. Wood, principal speaker, that an announcement would be forthcoming within fifteen days. Half a hundred citizens of the valley gathered at the Old Stone Inn, Benmar Hills tract, at 7 o'clock for dinner after which the speaking program and announcement of Burbank's plan took place.

Leading World

In his address, Mr. Wood pointed out that in three of the four divisions of metropolitan development, Los Angeles now leads the world. These divisions, he said, are population, industrial development, and financial progress. In the fourth division, education, Los Angeles must also excel if it is to become the leading metropolis of the globe, Mr. Wood declared. He said that now the opportunity laid within the grasp of Burbank and the San Fernando valley to become the very center of cultural development in Southern California and the world.

Mattison B. Jones, honored resident of Glendale, and chief spokesman for Burbank in that city's fight for the University of California, made an impassioned appeal for co-ordination of interests and efforts in the San Fernando valley, stressing the spirit of co-operation exhibited in the recent university fight. He called upon residents of the valley to play the part of true sportsmen by refusing to join in controversies now being waged over the Westwood location for the university and the proposed municipal bond issues in Los Angeles, Santa Monica and Beverly Hills for the purchase of that site. Later Mr. Jones offered a motion that the residents and organizations of the whole valley support the latest move of Burbank for a large institution.

W. E. Evans Speaks

W. E. Evans, Glendale and Los Angeles attorney, and leader in Republican circles of the state, also urged co-operation between cities of the San Fernando valley. He praised the Associated Chambers of Commerce and the work they are accomplishing.

"There is no possibility for excuse for disagreement of Glendale and Burbank," he said.

George J. Lyons, chairman of the Glendale committee appointed to assist Burbank in securing the university site was given an ovation when Colonel Charles B. Wood, toastmaster, called upon him to speak. Colonel Wood presented

FEW MEN ARE SENSIBLE ENOUGH—

To stand exaggerated praise.
To live down the temptations that come with sudden wealth.
To accept a silly woman's flattery at its true worth.
To treat their neighbor's blunders as tolerantly as their own.
To refuse 18 per cent when it is offered as "inside information."
To know when recreation has become dissipation.

WILL REGENTS RECONSIDER?

The farm bloc in the state Legislature is not taking kindly to the proposed appropriation for building the southern branch of the state university in a rapidly developing section of a big city, and the proponents of the Beverly-Westwood site are not having smooth sailing. It is rumored that if money is not forthcoming for the buildings the regents may be forced to reconsider.

Meanwhile, realty interests in the vicinity of the site selected are not losing anything. Sales have been more than brisk since March 21, the date the regents made the selection.

When the Westwood tract was opened a year or two ago, prospects were persuaded to buy through the argument that movie studios to be located on the tract would advance the value of the property materially in a short time. Huge signs were posted showing the location of the future home of the Harold Lloyd productions and the site of the Fox studio was pointed out also. When questioned by the regents of the university as to the advisability of locating a school in the midst of the movie interests it was denied that there was ever any intention of building movie studios on the tract. People are buying now because the state university is to be located there. But they should not be too sure. Not that the people who purchase lots in Westwood are being defrauded, for it is a high-class district and those who buy there will probably realize handsomely on their investment, regardless of movie studios and universities, as has been the case in similar sections all over Southern California. But the method of closing sales is not to be recommended.

AMERICA VINDICATED

America's foreign policy, which involves friendship and helpfulness for other countries without political or military alliances, is vindicated in a recent article in the English periodical, "The Fortnightly Review." While the writer, Mr. Whelpley, was born in America he has lived in England for many years, and writes from the British point of view. He says:

"That the American people are now more concerned with what have been held to be strictly European affairs than ever before in history is evident, and this will be more generally realized as time goes on. American interests have become truly international, not only in a political and academic sense but in a material way, far in advance of what has been the case heretofore. No "entangling alliances" have been made, for in the economic field losses can be cut in case of necessity, and there the matter ends. Political and military alliances may lead to war, but economic cooperation allows of temporary or permanent honorable withdrawal from international controversies if this be deemed advisable. This increasing American participation in European affairs carries with it wide spiritual responsibilities, however, as well as possible loss or gain, and these will develop more clearly with the passage of time."

PROSPERITY AND CRIME

Dr. Robert R. Moton, head of Tuskegee institute, claims that crimes involving race in the south are closely related to poor crops, low prices and economic depression. Favorable conditions of general prosperity decrease racial antagonism and conflict. He says: "The south is least conscious of race when economic conditions are most favorable."

If this is true, and it sounds very reasonable, for people with a sense of well-being have no desire to quarrel, then such aims as Tuskegee Institute and other schools for the education of the negro along lines of self-support should have every encouragement. Such training must surely bring about more stable and equitable economic conditions among the masses of the negroes in the south, which will contribute to racial adjustments.

The Federal Department of Agriculture has issued a report showing that the negro farmers of Virginia, working under the direction of the graduates of Tuskegee and Hampton, have added a yearly increase of $20,000,000 to the corn crop of the state. This should be a big factor in establishing conditions that would make for racial harmony in that state.

SHIPPING BOARD GENEROUS

The public would like to know why the United States Shipping board by a vote of 4 to 3 should "give away" five ships to a private corporation. There is abundant argument and experience against government operation of merchant ships and pointing to the wisdom of disposing of these vessels as ordered by Congress. But why ships which cost the government $25,000,000 to build and would cost $15,000,000 to replace now should be sacrificed for less than $6,000,000 is hard to understand.

The action of the board has stirred up a storm of protest against the members who voted in favor of accepting the low bid of the Dollar company. Even Captain Robert Dollar admits he had little hope the bid would be accepted.

It is possible that a method of stopping or preventing the sale will be found through court procedure. If not, the members of the Shipping board may prepare for a verbal bombardment when Congress meets again.

MARITAL DEVOTION

When Governor Miriam Ferguson of Texas signed the amnesty bill which restored full political and civil rights to her husband, former Governor James E. Ferguson, she said it was the "happiest" signature she had written since her inauguration.

Whether Jim Ferguson was accused or impeached justly or unjustly, and regardless of whether or not Ma Ferguson will make a good governor, her wifely devotion is admirable. She stood by her husband when he was discredited and fought at his side for seven years to vindicate his name.

Mrs. Ferguson has been "news" for a good many months because she is one of the first women governors. The story of her conjugal devotion ought to make a pretty good story, also, since it would be in such contrast to the current news stories of marital relationships.

Impossible happenings No. 4: "Let him stay on the job," said the political boss. "He belongs to the other party, but he's an efficient cuss."

The final measure of a man is taken by posterity. But his own times judge him by his prosperity.

THE GREAT GRAND-DADDY OF ALL THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLES

The Greatest Known Force

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The greatest force known among men is the force of a man himself. It is the sheer dominance of his spirit over untoward things.

When one is sick and invaded by the hosts of pain, his prospects for a cure are brightest if he has plenty of reserves of spirit. The determination not to die has kept many a man from dying.

When Floyd Collins was imprisoned in the Kentucky cave the thing that kept him alive so long was his indomitable spirit, his will not to give in. It was this that supported him and his rescuers.

The most amazing thing in that most amazing trip to Nome with the supply of anti-toxin for diphtheria was not the dog nor the diphtheria anti-toxin itself, but it was the men.

Man after all is the most wonderful animal in the world. He has more reserves than any other animal simply because man is a spirit and has all the reserves of spiritual power.

When George Mallory, whose life was recently lost in an ascent on Mt. Everest, returned from his first trip up a mountain, his wife greeted him with the remark, "Of course you will go again." When asked why he devoted his energies to trying to climb Mt. Everest, he answered the question by saying, "Because it is there."

If we understand that reply we shall understand the magnificent spirit that had made England what she is. It is the disposition to overcome what seems insuperable obstacles that makes men great. It was being willing to throw one's self against opposition that seemed insuperable that renders the history of the British people glorious.

There is constantly being enacted all about us the tragedy of pain. The hospitals are full of sufferers and there are many at home who are suffering. It would be well for them all to realize that it is not the doctor's medicine nor the nurse's care that is the chief factor in anyone's getting well, but it is one's own indomitable spirit, the pluck and energy with which one attacks the difficulties that confront him.

The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNAIRD

It should always be remembered that not only men of different races, but also different men of the same race, and even the same men at different periods of life, have different standards of happiness.

Remembering this, we cannot with justice criticize the roads many persons travel in pursuit of happiness. Our standard cannot be every one's.

The things that have pleased man—these are what have moulded him.

Activities appropriate to their needs which give pleasures to savages have ceased to be pleasurable to many of the civilized; while the civilized have acquired capacities for other appropriate activities and accompanying pleasures which savages have no capacities for.

Herbert Spencer observed that when we have got rid of the tendency to think that certain modes of activity are necessarily pleasurable because they give us pleasure, and that other modes which do not please us are necessarily displeasing; we shall see that the remoulding of human nature into fitness for the requirements of social life, must eventually make all pleasurable activities pleasurable, while it makes displeasurable all activities at variance with those requirements.

One who, leaving behind primitive dogmas and primitive ways of looking at things, while accepting scientific conclusions, acquires those habits of thought which science generates, will regard the conclusion drawn in the foregoing paragraphs as inevitable, he opined.

"He will find it impossible to believe that the processes which have heretofore so moulded all beings to the requirements of their lives that they get satisfaction in fulfilling them, will not hereafter continue so moulding them."

"Moralists of one class derive moral rules from the commands of a supreme political power," he said in another place. "Those of another class recognize no other origin for them than the revealed divine will. And though men who take social prescription for their guide do not formulate their doctrine, yet the belief frequently betrayed, that conduct which society permits is not blameworthy, implies that there are those who think right and wrong can be made such by public opinion."

Austria continues to pass through a serious crisis, chiefly of an economic nature. Loans have been made to tide her over difficulties and the league of nations has laid down a plan of action for the government to follow in order that these loans may be protected. Recently in Geneva, the Austrian government was rebuked by the council of the league of nations for not carrying out these instructions. The committee made on behalf of the league will be addressed by the Austrian chancellor, Dr. Rudolph Ramek, who has been directing the destinies of his country since Mr. Seipel resigned last November.

Chancellor Ramek is a comparatively young man, being only 42 years old. He has had many years of active political experience and possesses a broad knowledge of governmental affairs that is of great aid to him in facing the vast problem of rebuilding Austria. Dr. Ramek is head of a cabinet that consists mostly of Christian Socialists and so far he has followed much the same path as did his predecessor. He has declared that he is exerting every effort to observe the clauses of the agreement with the league of nations and that in time he expects to be successful. In his estimation the most important measure for bringing about an improvement in the economic situation would be the alleviation of the prevailing want of capital by procuring long-term foreign credits for American industry, agriculture and communications, and particularly for the development of water power. Moreover, it would be necessary to restore greater freedom of movement of commercial relations with foreign countries.

One of the most important phases of his fight for an economic regime that will satisfy the league of nations relates to the reduction of the number of employees in governmental offices. Out of a population of 6,000,000 in Austria, there are 600,000 civil servants.

Today's Poem

PARTED FRIENDS
Friend after friend departs:
Who hath not lost a friend?
There is no union here of hearts
That finds not here an end;
Were this frail world our only rest,
Living or dying, none were blest.

Beyond the flight of time,
Beyond this vale of death,
There surely is some blessed clime
Where life is not a breath,
Nor life's affections transient fire,
Whose sparks fly upward to expire.

There is a world above,
Where parting is unknown;
A world where love is true and true,
Formed for the good alone;
And faith beholds the dying here
Translated to that happier sphere.

Thus star by star declines,
Till all are passed away,
As morning high and higher shines,
To pure and perfect day;
Nor sink those stars in empty night;
They hide themselves in heaven's own light.

Vending Machines Out By Terms Of Ordinance

SANTA BARBARA, April 4.—The Santa Barbara City Council has accepted an entirely revised ordinance prohibiting the operation of automatic vending machines, in which any element of chance exists. Although the ordinance was drafted by City Attorney Butcher, he asserts that it will not stand the test of court and has advised members of the council of that fact. Petitions signed by 3000 members of the women's organizations, however, were read by Mayor Andora, and the measure adopted.

City Employees Sick? Must Languish In Bed

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—City employees who say they are ill should be careful hereafter to stay in bed while absent from work. City Council has given heads of departments authority to dismiss employees who feign illness to avoid work. He said many employees were staying home on excuse of being sick that his department had been crippled.

DEVELOPMENT WORK IN SPARR HEIGHTS FORECAST

GAS TAX PLAN WRONG, SAYS ATTORNEY

Auto Club Counsel, Urging Action, Claims South Is Unjustly Treated

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—The highway financing program before the California Legislature today remains "status quo," the Highway commission having refused, after three days of conferences, to accede to the request of the Senate to present a budget of proposed new construction. Neither will it agree to allocations at this time. The action indicates that the administration is side-stepping the increased gasoline tax and Senator Arthur Breed saved that measure from slaughter in the Revenue and Taxation committee by a narrow margin. The time is ripe for the auto clubs of the state to now assume the leadership in clarifying the situation, according to David R. Faries, counsel of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

"With all the charges and counter charges that are being hurled on the floor of the Legislature at Sacramento in connection with the consideration of highway legislation, there is a tendency on the part of many to obtain erroneous impressions," Faries said today.

"Demagogic" Screen

"One of the most frequent and loudly-heralded allegations is that the oil companies are the chief opponents of the proposed increase in the gasoline tax. This is a demagogic smoke screen designed to obscure the facts. The facts are that the objectors are the taxpaying motorists of the state, led by the Automobile Club of Southern California, the Motor Dealers' associations of Los Angeles and San Francisco, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, and other important organizations, and joined in by the City Councils of Los Angeles, Pasadena, Glendale and other Southern California cities.

The Automobile Club of Southern California has vigorously objected to the motorists being assessed for the cost of state highway construction, through agreement that the motorists should pay for the maintenance and repair of the state highways. The organization takes this stand as, while it believes the highways should be maintained by those who wear them out, it does not believe that the motorists should be forced to build the highways any more than the students of our state university or of the high schools or grammar schools, nor their parents, should be forced to pay the cost of erecting such institutions.

Taxed to Limit

"It believes that the cost of constructing state highways is a capital investment and should be paid by all the people of the state by payments from general funds of the state rather than from registration, gasoline or weight taxes assessed on the motoring public, a class already paying its full share of the state's tax burden.

"The proponents of the extra gasoline tax admit that the state has ample maintenance and repair funds but claim that there will be no funds for new construction in the next biennial period unless we levy further taxes. This plea is made, senators and assemblymen, opposing the increase point out, in the face of the fact that the state will have a surplus in its treasury of $22,000,000, which leads to the very natural inquiry on the part of the people: Why should taxes be increased when the state will have such ample surplus funds?

Injustice to South

"While the governor is to be heartily commended for his declaration against the allocation of funds for the specified highways proposed by Senator Breed in the legislation he proposed, it is to be regretted that he also declared himself against any allocation which would treat Southern California more equitably than it has been dealt with in the past. This fact has made opponents of the gasoline tax more determined than ever to defeat this measure.

"At the present time the thirteen counties of California which make up Southern California pay 57.5 per cent of the state's gasoline tax and receive back 34 per cent or less in state highway expenditure. To increase the gasoline tax without providing for a fair allocation of the funds would mean the continuance of this injustice.

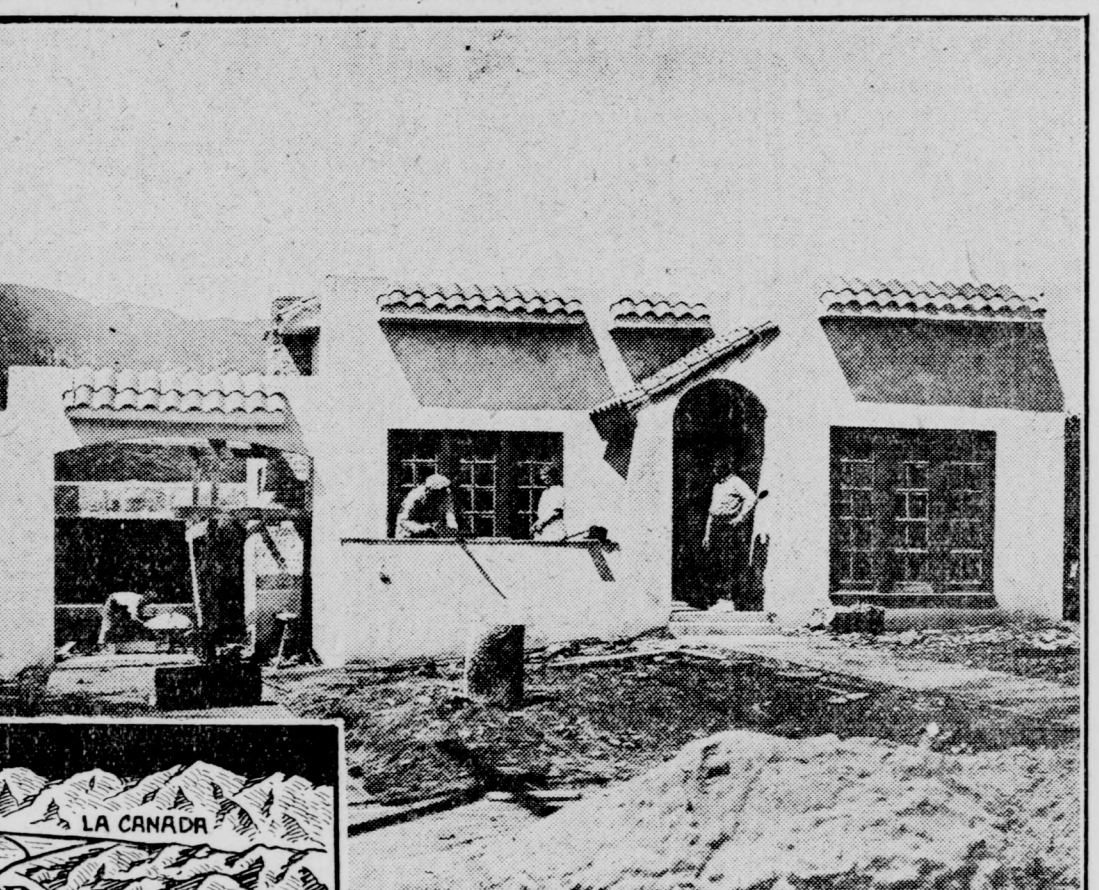

'Political' Is Claim

"The plan which was proposed for allocation of the funds by Senator Breed is so grossly unfair to Southern California and so obviously political in character that its defeat is to be hailed with approval. In view of the apparent reflection that such action might be on the state highway commission the attitude of the governor in refusing to approve of the po-

GLENDAL HIGH IN SOUTHERN BUILDING

Stands Fifth for March Permits Issued In Cities Outside Los Angeles; Large Gains Over February

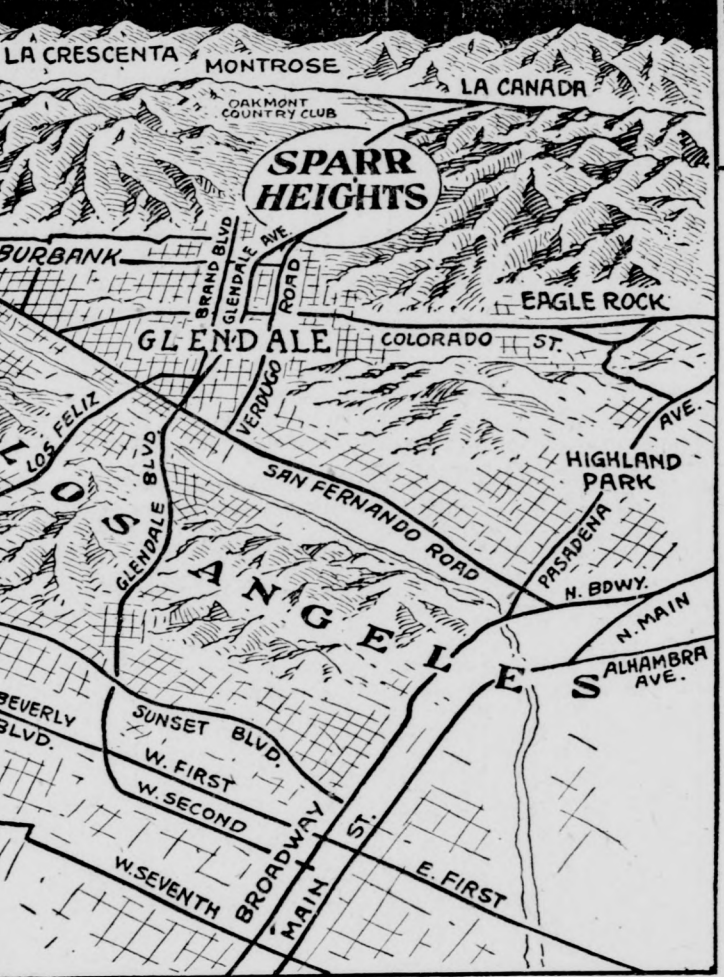

March building activities in the Pacific southwest produced a very satisfactory volume of construction. Forty-three cities, including Los Angeles, reported building permits issued during the month with an estimated valuation of $25,160,294, as compared with $28,573,036 for March a year ago. Forty-three cities reported for February, 1925, building permits aggregating $18,669,157.

Forty-two cities outside Los Angeles reported permits issued during March, 1925, with an estimated valuation of $10,446,282, as compared with $11,293,278 for the same month last year. For February forty-two cities outside Los Angeles reported building permits aggregating $7,884,214.

San Diego leads the cities outside Los Angeles in building for March, 1925; Santa Monica is second; Long Beach, with a loss of more than 50 per cent, is third; Pasadena fourth, Glendale fifth, and Beverly Hills, with the largest monthly total in the history of that community, is sixth.

Following are the cities reporting to Southwest Builder and Contractor for March, 1925, with totals for that month and for the same month last year:

	March, 1925	March, 1924
Los Angeles	$14,714,002	$17,279,758
San Diego	1,448,899	819,335
Santa Monica	1,159,875	630,085
Long Beach	1,073,671	2,287,240
Pasadena	820,933	885,252

HOME OWNERSHIP IS STRESSED IN SPEECH

Address on Credit Value Obtained by Being Property Holder Wins In Conference Trophy Contest

One of the special features of the Own Your Home conference held at Pasadena was a two-minute oratorical contest, participated in by representatives of the various boards in attendance. H. A. Mortson, vice-president of the Beverly Hills Realty board, speaking on the "Credit Value of the Home," was unanimously adjudged the winner of the Clifton J. Platt Own Your Home trophy. His talk follows:

"Home ownership is a mark of self respect. The extent of credit is largely governed by the degree of self respect of the applicant. It lends stability and manifests good judgment, assets with which wealth seeks alliance.

"It speaks of permanency and good intentions, both forerunners of achievement and success.

"Money must work! There are millions and millions of dollars begging for employment with men of stability and good intent. The surplus of the rich must find employment in the service of the average man.

Evolution Idea

"The purchase of a home is your arrival at the point of desirability as the employer of funds. Owning real estate, you are a part of the standing and stability of the very interests to which you would apply for credit.

"The home is 90 per cent of all that is worth while to the average man. Our financial interests measure their success by their following of average man.

"Home ownership speaks of responsibility!

"The responsibility is linked with permanency!

"Permanency begets stability!

"Stability and self respect go hand in hand!

BUILDING PERMITS $798,021 FOR MARCH

Exceed February Mark by $184,741, But Lower Than Amount Set During Same Month Last Year

Building permits for the first three months in 1925 failed by $739,193 to equal the building total for the first quarter of 1924, according to records in the office of the city building department, but a number of important building contracts now pending, permits for which are expected to be granted within the next few weeks, will probably bring the total for the first six months over the building total for last year.

Building permits in March of this year reached a total of $798,021, exceeding by $184,741 that of the preceding month. Permits for March, 1924, totaled $968,050.

FORM FIRM TO FINANCE NEW STRUCTURES

H. E. Barnum Is Manager Of Concern Organized To Encourage Building

A tremendous new building campaign for Sparr Heights is forecast by the announcement today of the formation of the Barnum Building & Finance Co., under the management of H. E. Barnum, to operate in Sparr Heights exclusively. Immediate construction of a number of fine homes as the start of this construction program is assured, it is stated.

The most important feature of the new concern is the fact that buildings will be constructed to the order of the buyer on any Sparr Heights lot at a very liberal scale of payments and with a remarkably small initial investment on the part of the purchaser, according to Barnum.

Development Fast

"Sparr Heights is now much more than a sub-division," stated Mr. Barnum yesterday. "It has become an integral part of the splendidly growing city of Glendale and the first development of this entire section is so thoroughly assured that it is possible to finance homes here on almost a 100 per cent basis. We are therefore prepared with our own architectural service, our own builders, and our own money to commence a building program that will offer a more liberal opportunity to home buyers than anything else we know of."

Sparr Heights was opened to public sale a little over two years ago as a beautiful but untouched valley lying in the cup of the Verdugo Hills. Today it is a thoroughly established part of the city of Glendale with over 125 buildings up and occupied and with all of the best type of city improvements actually installed in most of the property.

New Improvements

Some idea of the intensive and attractive development of Sparr Heights can be gathered from the fact that over 1,000,000 square feet of pavement have been installed, with 180,000 square feet of concrete sidewalk, 14 miles of concrete curbing, and miles more of gutters, sewers, water pipe, gas mains and electric lines. In all the development work to date in Sparr Heights totals over $500,000 and contracts are now awarded to Peter Ferry for $125,000 more to be spent in new development work.

The new Barnum Building & Finance Co., offers a complete service to prospective home builders. E. A. Hayes, whose houses are famous in Southern California, will act as supervising architect for all new construction carried on by the company. Hayes has had a wide education in the designing of artistic homes having studied in Italy, France, Spain and England. His deft touches add much to the planning efficiency and attractive appearance of houses that do not cost fortunes to build.

Sparr Heights offers a wide range of choice in building sites as zones of varying restrictions are established for both moderately priced structures and more elaborate mansions. The vicinity of the Oakmont Country club which is becoming the rallying point for many Glendale people, offers particularly choice locations for homes that will always overlook a scene of marvelous beauty.

Complete management of the operations of the Barnum Building & Finance company will be vested in Mr. Barnum who is also the subdivider of Sparr Heights and in this way is in a position to be of greatest aid to all who contemplate homes in this delightful section of Glendale.

Men's Club Entertains Women At Social Party

The Men's club of Tropico Presbyterian church held a social meeting last night at a church when women were guests. Forty-five people were present. James A. McLean, president of the class, presided. Musical numbers under the direction of H. E. Fry, were presented by the Barber Shop quartette. A debate on the subject, "Resolved, That the Earth Is Flat" was given by John Ser-ver, affirmative, and William McLean, negative. A committee was unable to decide on a winner. Each one present was asked to give their name, present address, and the place where they were born, which showed representatives from England, Ireland, France and Canada, in addition to those from different states of the Union. Refreshments were served.

Realtors In Quarterly Session At San Diego

The quarterly session of the board of directors of the California Real Estate association was held today at Hotel San Diego. More than 100 delegates from the various boards were present. A banquet will be held tonight.

OUTPUT DECREASES

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Daily average output of crude oil in California decreased by 4,500 barrels the past week to 597,500 barrels. The largest decreases were at Long Beach and Dominguez. Forty-two new wells were started and fifteen abandoned.

Council Minutes

Minutes of the Glendale City Council, Prepared by City Clerk

Following are the minutes of the City Council, in session April 2, as prepared by the city clerk: The council assembled at 10 o'clock a. m. All members were present. Minutes of March 31 were read and approved.

Improvement Eden Avenue

The clerk notified the council that this was the time, hour and place fixed for hearing protests or objections against the proposed improvement or the extent of the district for the improvement of portions of Eden avenue, Walnut drive, Mount Carmel drive and other streets in the city of Glendale, as particularly described in resolution of intention No. 2794, passed by the said council March 12, 1925, and the clerk also reported to the council that he had not received any written protests or objections up to the time set for hearing. Whereupon, the mayor asked if there were any interested persons present who desired to be heard, and all interested persons having been given full opportunity to show cause why the proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with the said resolution of intention, no objections oral or written having been presented, on motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman MacBain, duly carried, all protests were denied. Whereupon Councilman Kimlin introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale ordering certain improvements to be made on portions of Eden avenue, Walnut drive, Mount Carmel drive, Lilac lane, Holly drive, Merrill avenue, Oak Vista drive, Orchard avenue, Hill drive, Glenoaks boulevard and Chevy Chase drive, within the city of Glendale," which was read, and, on his motion, seconded by Councilman Davis, the same was numbered resolution No. 2806 and adopted.

Improvement of Broadway

The clerk notified the council that this was the time, hour and place fixed for hearing protests or objections against the proposed improvement, or the extent of the district to be assessed for the improvement of a portion of Broadway in the city of Glendale as particularly described in resolution of intention No. 2793, passed by the said council on March 12, 1925, and the clerk also reported to the council that he had not received any written protests or objections up to the time set for hearing. Whereupon, the mayor asked if there were any interested persons present who desired to be heard, and all interested persons having been given full opportunity to show cause why the proposed improvement should not be carried out in accordance with the said resolution of intention, no objections, oral or written, having been presented, on motion of Councilman MacBain, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, duly carried, all protests were denied. Whereupon Councilman Davis introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale ordering certain improvements to be made on a portion of Broadway within the city of Glendale," which was read, and, on his motion, seconded by Councilman MacBain, the same was numbered resolution No. 2807 and adopted.

Issuance of Bonds

The clerk informed the council that this was the time, hour and place where all persons interested might appear and state their objections, if any, against any action of the council of the city of Glendale to determine the aggregate amount of unpaid assessments for the improvement of Watson street, Alameda avenue, Mountain street and certain rights of way owned by the city of Glendale in said city, as more particularly described in resolution of intention No. 2602, passed by the said council on September 18, 1924, providing for the issuance of bonds therefor, and prescribing their denomination, and the clerk also reported to the council that he had not received any written protests or objections up to the time set for the hearing. Whereupon the mayor asked if there were any interested persons present who desired to be heard, and all interested persons having been given full opportunity to show cause why the said bonds should not be issued in accordance with the determination of the council, no objections, oral or written, having been presented, on motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman MacBain, duly carried, all protests were denied. Whereupon Councilman Davis introduced a resolution entitled, "A resolution of the council of the city of Glendale, California, relating to the issuance of street improvement bonds pursuant to resolution of intention No. 2602, determining the amount of unpaid assessments, prescribing their denomination of such bonds, and providing for their issuance," which was read, and, on his motion, seconded by Councilman MacBain, the same was numbered resolution No. 2808 and adopted.

Improvement of Central

The clerk notified the council that this was the time, hour and place fixed for hearing protests or objections to the work, assessment, diagram or any act, determination or proceeding of the street superintendent or city engineer for the improvement of Central avenue and other streets, as more particularly described in resolution of intention No. 2431, passed by the council of the city of Glendale on June 5, 1924, and the clerk also reported to the council that he had not received any written protests or objections up to the time set for hearing. Whereupon the mayor asked if there were any interested persons present who desired to be heard, and Mr. Shaw addressed the council, calling attention to a low place at the northeast corner of

Park and Central avenue, and contractor agreed to fix same to the satisfaction of property owners, all interested persons having been given full opportunity to show cause why the proposed assessment should not be carried out in accordance with the diagram exhibiting the district to be assessed to pay the costs of said improvement, all objections having been heard and considered, on motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, all protests were denied.

On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, assessment roll for the improvement of Central avenue, as prepared by the street superintendent, was confirmed.

Issuance of Bonds

COLLARS ATTACHED

MILWAUKEE, April 4.—Men's shirts, especially colored shirts with collars attached, are moving here in greater volume than since the holidays. Neck wear business also is reported booming.

LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, April 4.—With every seat taken at the first banquet given by the Verdugo Hills Merchants' association was a decided success from every angle. After a sumptuous dinner the guests turned their attention to the diversified program which had been planned for their entertainment by the chairman of the committee on arrangements, George Wales Farrand. An appropriate speech of welcome by the president, Albert E. Sullivan, in which he mentioned the growth of the organization from three or four merchants to the present membership of sixty in one year, opened the program.

Verdugo Hills orchestra played a special number, followed by Mrs. Max Green of Glendale who was applauded for her presentation of Dally's "Blue Devil" and "The Heel by Edwin Vance Cook, and a Chinese selection.

Miss Margaret Hauber, always popular, was well received in her rendition of "Sibelius" "Romance" and "Liebesdorf" by Kriesler. Recitation, "Vision," was well handled by Dr. Frederick Keeler of Tujunga. Tenor solos, "Until," and "At Dawning," were given by Charles A. Comfort, accompanied by Mrs. A. E. Sullivan.

Carroll Packer, president of the Tujunga Kiwanis club, embraced the idea of Kiwanism. "At Dawning," by Cadman, and "Reveries," by Speaks, were beautifully sung by Mrs. Sheridan Young of Montrose, accompanied by Miss Margaret Hauber.

A most forceful speech was that given by H. V. Adams of Glendale. Outstanding remarks of Mr. Adams' talk were: "Many people are sitting down waiting for a new administration to come along and make things easier for them to shake success into their idle laps. Most of us are mental, moral and physical failures. We are all lazy, some in body, some in mind and others in soul."

Mr. Adams defined a demagogue as a person that tells any man, anywhere, any time, that the fault of his failure lies with the other fellow and starts trouble. He anywhere, any time, to seek office for himself. On the school system, he said: "The dear little children are only to study what they want, when they want and how they want. They are consequently, looking for soft snaps when they come into the business world. This is the menace of the country today. The children don't know how to toil."

The labor situation was next in line. Regarding it, Mr. Adams said: "A six-hour day could never feed the world. If the farmer only worked six hours, there would not be enough food to feed the world. Life is one long round of trouble and we are running around on one cylinder."

Mrs. I. W. Lowe was heard in the "Creole Love Song" and "Grey Days," accompanied by Mrs. Willard R. Campbell. The difficult steps of her Egyptian dance were well done by Miss Eileen Karr, accompanied by the Verdugo Hills orchestra. A lively number by the orchestra concluded the program.

G. Hobson of the Verdugo City pullman cafe did the catering. Tables were beautifully decorated with ruscus, sweet peas and everlasting flowers. As the symbol of what the organization stands for, tiny pink everlasting flowers were tucked into the folds of the program cards. A. E. Sullivan and Mr. Farrand received praise from everyone on the perfect arrangements of dinner and program.

Troop 1 of the La Crescenta valley Boy Scouts will meet at the home of Scout Assistant A. Cox on Altura avenue tonight and the proposed trip to the district camp has been postponed on account of weather.

George Wales Farrand, secretary of the Verdugo Hills Merchants' association has moved his office from the Smith building at the corner of Michigan and Los Angeles avenues to the Meyer block in Montrose. Mr. Farrand is busy on a membership drive for the La Crescenta Chamber of Commerce.

Mesdames George Wellington and Robert Wildhack were hostesses Thursday afternoon at the regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Guild of St. Luke's of the Mountains. Plans were made for Easter services.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, April 4.—Adam Dalmatin, Los Angeles, was the lowest bidder and has been awarded the contract by the city of Los Angeles for construction of the main line sewers in Eagle Rock.

A special campaign is being conducted in Eagle Rock in an effort to have a big registration during the primary election May 5. During the last few days it is possible to register at the secretary's office for the city hall. It is remaining open in the evenings.

The Greater Eagle Rock club, which has for its sole object the plan of advertising Eagle Rock on a large scale, now has sufficient funds to begin placing advertisements in Southern California newspapers at least once each month. George W. Reed has been retained to prepare the advertising copy for the city.

Open night will be held by the Eagle Rock Community Players at their clubhouse Thursday evening, April 9. Entertainment features include play-reading and playwriting by Miss Piney, community singing, special music and a whistling solo by Isabel Palm. Marion Craig Wentworth, nationally known as a writer and reader of plays, will read "The Singing Globe" at the next meeting of the Women's Twentieth Century club, April 9, at 2:30 p. m. It is a modern miracle play, written in the interests of world peace by Arthur Farwell. Mrs. Wentworth herself is the author of a number of recent plays, notably "War Birds," "If Everybody Had a Window Like This" and "The Wonder Work."

Mrs. Eudora F. Burns, 76,

SUNLAND NOTES

TUJUNGA, April 4.—The election for trustee for Sunland school, March 27, resulted in the election of M. E. Morgan to succeed Rudolph Henry. Mr. Morgan has been in business in the valley for several years, conducting a nursery there, and has taken an active part in community affairs in Valley Center and Sunland. He has children in school, and is well equipped for rendering good service in school matters.

The alley center improvement league met last Friday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Shaffer in North Walnut drive. The matter of Haines canyon flood control was discussed. Some of the later residents, not being familiar with the conditions, asked for information, in response to which, President Kirschman, who has been a resident of the valley for some fourteen years, gave an account of the general facts in regard to the Haines canyon wash and stated that the matter of controlling the storm waters of Haines canyon wash was a problem which only engineers could solve, and said that the residents of the valley should urge the county authorities to continue the flood control work to completion.

The matter of sponsoring the next meeting of the roundtable, which had been held over from previous meeting, was then taken up, and a lengthy resolution with preamble was presented and adopted. By this resolution the Valley Center league declined to sponsor any more roundtable gatherings. The roundtable was organized about a year ago through the instrumentality of the Kiwanis club. Invitations were extended to the civic organizations of Tujunga, Valley Center and Sunland, to join the roundtable, with the view of promoting, through the co-operation of these various organizations, the best interests of the entire valley. For a time, considerable interest was taken in these meetings, and the promotion of the ideals for which the roundtable was organized, seemed assured. Later, interest waned. At the close of the business meeting, lunch was served by the women, celebrating the birthday of Mrs. Bloodgood, and the election of M. E. Morgan as school trustee.

Newmire & Ohme, subdividers of Sunland Park tract, entertained the Tujunga Realty board at Sunland Park last Monday. M. V. Hartranft was present, and spoke regarding the bill before the Legislature which has for its object nullifying the inheritance tax law. Newmire & Ohme reported fifteen new houses in course of construction in the new Sunland Park subdivision.

The Sunland grocery store is henceforth to be known as the Sunland General store, and is under the management of H. Bostian.

Frank Manley and Miss Clara A. Powell were united in marriage by Rev. W. E. Smith at the Sunland Baptist church, Monday, March 23.

DRY GOODS COMBINE

ST. LOUIS, April 4.—Purchase by the Ely & Walker Dry Goods Co., of the Carleton Dry Goods Co., and combination of the two houses will give St. Louis the largest wholesale dry goods establishment in the middle west. Capitalization of the two companies is $15,042,225 and their combined sales in 1924 were over $60,000,000. The deal will be consummated June 1.

RAIL IMPROVEMENT

SHREVEPORT, La., April 4.—The Missouri Pacific railroad is having its road from Alexandria, La., to Little Rock, Ark., re-laid. The railroad recently placed orders for approximately $12,000,000 of new rolling stock, a considerable portion of which will be used in Louisiana and Arkansas.

EAGLE ROCK, April 4.—Work is to be started within the next two weeks on the Eagle Rock playground on Yosemite drive, according to an announcement by officials of the city playground commission.

Petition for street lights on El Verano avenue has been filed with the City Council of Los Angeles. Power poles on which the lights can be placed are already erected, according to the petitioners.

Committees in charge of the Sunrise Easter services, to be held in Eagle Rock, have completed arrangements for the program. The massed choir is completing rehearsals under leadership of the noted baritone, Earl Houk. Installation of new seats at Eagle Rock bowl is progressing rapidly. Three thousand were completed this week. The program will include a tribute by Gordon Stephens, a children's chorus, a talk by Rev. W. H. Cary and singing led by Prof. Charles F. Lindsay. President Remsen D. Bird of Occidental college will be the principal address. In the event of rain on Easter morning the services will be held in the grandstand of Patterson villa.

L. W. Fisher, 5302 Sierra villa, has been appointed assistant building inspector in Eagle Rock. Fisher was employed in the city water department for fourteen years.

Col. H. B. Maxson, 2030 Ridge avenue, has returned to his Eagle Rock home from Carson City, where he has been attending the Senate of the Nevada Legislature for the past two months.

TUJUNGA NOTES

TUJUNGA, April 4.—Dr. Edgar Pasko, chairman of Easter service committee, is arranging for sunrise services to be held at the foot of the cross on Mt. McGroarty, Easter morning. Details will be announced later.

The Tujunga Realty board, with the assistance of M. V. Hartranft, have been instrumental in tabling the bill aimed against the Torrens title system. The local realty board sent out copies of their resolution condemning the proposed measure, to all realty boards in the state. Mr. Hartranft made a trip to Sacramento, and appeared before the Senate committee which had this bill under advisement, and pointed out its defects and dangers. The result was that the bill was tabled in the committee, and therefore will not come before the Legislature.

The banquet and entertainment given by the wives of the Kiwanis club members in the Tujunga Women's club building, was a huge success. A fine dinner and an enjoyable entertainment was given by the women. Mrs. Carroll Packer presided. Music and short talks occupied the time. The event of the evening was the presentation to the Kiwanians of a beautiful bronze bell, to be used in calling the meetings to order. After dinner and program, the evening was occupied by cards and dancing.

N. C. Smith, proprietor of the new shoe store on Michigan avenue, near Marshall street, has offered prizes for the three most appropriate names for his store, names submitted were: Judge H. H. Breidt, president Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Flora White, president Women's club; Mrs. W. B. Anderson, president American Legion auxiliary.

At the court of honor of Tujunga-Sunland district of Boy Scouts, held Wednesday, March 25, in the Community church, Walter Henslip of Troop 2, Tujunga, qualified as first class scout. Carl Schneider of Troop 1, qualified as second class scout. Maunson Grant of Troop 2, received three merit badges and qualified as second class scout. Sidney Walker of Troop 1, received three merit badges. West El Centro street is in a state of upheaval at present, as the county crew is at work preparing the street for paving.

A new barber shop has been opened on the highway, near Marshall street, by J. A. Tittle. Mr. Frank Kresler of the Tujunga-Sunland fire department has been decorated by Battalion Chief Heinzman of Los Angeles, with a badge reading "Los Angeles County Fire Department 104." This is the first badge issued by the Los Angeles county fire department.

AT LAST—The home You have always wanted BUILT TO YOUR ORDER NOW!

$1,000. DOWN is ALL you need under this new plan for BOTH HOUSE & LOT
in beautiful Sparr Heights

...a New firm—

The Barnum Building and Finance Co. has just been organized under the management of H. E. Barnum for the express purpose of building homes of real worth and beauty in SPARR HEIGHTS exclusively. Mr. E. A. Hayes, whose work is famous in Southern California, has been secured as supervising architect.

...a New building policy

Due to the strong financial backing of the Barnum Building and Finance Co. and the close community of interest between this firm and the owners and developers of SPARR HEIGHTS it will be possible for reputable home buyers to secure through this concern probably the most liberal terms ever offered in Glendale for houses designed and built to order on lots in a highly developed residential section of the city.

a New opportunity for YOU

This is an unprecedented opportunity for YOU to acquire the home of your dreams, far sooner than you had thought possible, and in SPARR HEIGHTS, the great growing glorious community spreading from mountain top to mountain top in the beautiful Verdugo Valley section of Glendale.

At last

—the time has come in SPARR HEIGHTS when this great, highly developed subdivision can take its place as an integral part of the city of Glendale. Its future is assured with STEADILY INCREASING VALUES based on the great developments that are now actually completed here. These are some of the accomplished facts that make it possible for the Barnum Building and Finance Co. to offer such remarkable terms on new home building here today.

SPARR HEIGHTS covers 1500 acres, including a great residential section zoned to permit the erection of fine homes only.

Half a million has been spent on improvements.

Contracts for $125,000 more have been awarded.

125 Buildings are already up and occupied.

Many more are under construction.

A Community Building that cost $40,000.

A mammoth market building in the business center.

The famous OAKMONT COUNTRY CLUB now in operation.

4½ Miles of gas mains laid.

11¾ Miles water mains laid.

Fire hydrants installed all over tract.

Over a million square feet of paving installed.

180,000 Square feet of sidewalk laid.

14 Miles concrete curbing installed.

2½ Miles concrete gutters installed.

Sewers, retaining walls, culverts and storm drains in and operating wherever necessary.

A rapid transit street car system through the center of property now.

A great traffic artery, the VERDUGO ROAD, to make values. Because of these accomplished facts it is not only possible but profitable for this company to build here for you at these unusual terms.

Investigate at once. Call today at either of the Glendale offices, or if this is impossible, mail the attached coupon to the main office and full information will be furnished you at once without any obligation to you.

Homes Like These In SPARR HEIGHTS
Command Marvelous Views

These two homes shown above are representative of a section of Sparr Heights overlooking all the Verdugo Valley, the Oakmont Country Club and the rim of beautiful hills surrounding this section of Glendale.

And yet these comfortable homes cost no more in Sparr Heights than in flat uninteresting sections.

Under our new plan you could easily afford to have us build a home for you at once—either of this type or a much more elaborate structure, if you desire it, in the upper sections of Sparr Heights restricted to $7500, $10,000 and $15,000 single family homes.

Let us know your individual needs and tastes and we will explain just what we can do to meet your exact desires.

NEW PAINT LINEFamous Du-Pont Enamels,
Paints And Varnishes
To Be FeaturedIn line with their policy of providing the highest quality products for the use of the building trades, the Wilson-Bell Hardware Co., 227 North Brand boulevard, have added to their splendid stock,
the famous line of Du Pont paints, enamels and varnishes.For years and years the name Du Pont has been synonymous with quality in the manufacturing of many products, and in recent years with their entry into the paint manufacturing business that same standard of quality has always been maintained.It is interesting to note, says
S. F. Bell, "that although the Du Pont people are making paints, enamels and varnishes, a separate factory and specially equipped laboratories are maintained for each of these products.""By keeping the manufacture of each product confined in a factory where only one particular paint, varnish or enamel is made, the finished merchandise is always the same, and the quality never varies." Each factory is under the supervision of the laboratory and their chemists. The grinding and assimilating of the various ingredients is always the same with the result that a gallon of Du Pont paint has been found to cover a larger surface of square feet and to spread on with a smoother finish than any brand of "just ordinary paint."Another Du Pont product in which housewives are interested, said Mr. Bell, is the Linoleum Shield, a quick drying hard surface finish for linoleum. The Du Ponts are also manufacturers of linoleum and for many years their chemists have made a study of producing an ideal finish that would afford ample protection against wear and tear. The Linoleum Shield, represents the result of their work and is asserted to be the best preparation for the protection of linoleum surfaces now known.Paraffine Companies Aid Home DecorationS. T. Beattie, merchandising manager of The Paraffine Companies, Inc., announced today that his company has sent a corps of women, skilled in the art of interior decorating, into thousands of Pacific coast homes to teach housewives the proper mode of blending colors in their decorative schemes to achieve the highest type of beauty in their homes.
"Modern industry must not confine its interest in the public to the merchandise it sells, but must win the whole-hearted support of the public by taking a whole-hearted interest in the public," said Beattie. "It must render an unselfish service to the public, whether the public actually uses its commodities or not."
"The purpose of manufacturers is not merely to dispose of their products and let the public shift for itself, as to their use," declared Beattie. "Industry must render true co-operation.""Miss Katherine Ball, a noted authority on interior decorating, declared recently that there is not enough beauty in the home today.
I agree with Miss Ball, and I also believe that it's up to industry—the building material industry, particularly—to remedy this condition."
"Women are far more capable than men in transmitting knowledge on home beautifying to women, which is the principal reason why we've retained a corps of women to do our educational work."CITRUS SHIPMENTSHOUSTON, April 4.—The Rio Grande valley has shipped 419 cars of citrus fruits so far this year, as compared with 122 at this date last year. Most of the shipments were grape fruit, growing of which is developing rapidly.DIRECT OUTLETAMARILLO, Texas, April 4.—
The Whittington interests are preparing to lay a four inch pipe line from the Wheeler county oil fields to a junction with the Rock Island railroad west of this city.
This will give the field its first direct outlet.Have You a Home All Your Own?No other accomplishment reflects more worth-while efforts than home-ownership, for it is there that all members of the family spend the happiest moments of their livesYou'll like this home plan because it's different.While the exterior pictured here is shown in stucco, it would be equally attractive built in frame or brick. The landscape windows in front offer a wonderful view from living and dining room, and the corner covered porch is used as a combination recreation and entry.Three well arranged bedrooms make this home practical for a large family—the bath room is spacious and by means of a convenient hall offers a direct connection to the main rooms. In the kitchen and on the back screened-in porch every conceivable labor and time-saving convenience is included; in fact nothing has been omitted or overlooked that would make this a real home.In any building problem you will find the advertisers on this page anxious to cooperate with you.

Successful Year
For Realty FirmHayward & McCartney held their regular monthly business meeting last evening in their office at 142 South Brand. Messrs.
Hayward and McCartney and Halesmen G. A. Mudgett, Frank
Hoopes, C. F. Waechter, L. J.
Dannel, J. C. Slater were present as well as G. A. Lavison, office manager. The report of business for March disclosed 34 sales, bringing the grand total for the year up to 97. Mr. Mudgett earned a bonus by leading the field with $60,000 worth of property sold, including a $37,000 ten-year lease on Brand boulevard, details of which will be announced later. The other salesmen were closely bunched behind him.Messrs. Hayward and McCartney are very proud of their organization of hustling representatives and are bending every effort to make of it the strongest, best and most reliable realty force in Glendale. Their entire business is sys-tematized to a very high degree with a view of rendering the greatest service possible to their clients. The entire organization of salesmen led by Mr. Hayward, makes a daily inspection tour of all new listings so that each man is thoroughly familiar with the stock of goods available for prospective purchasers. This makes it possible to do justice to those who are especially desirous of moving their properties quickly, and also makes it possible to offer a very attractive variety of homes to the prospective purchaser, to say nothing of the value to the organization in keeping each man posted on the market conditions.The signal success of this firm during 1922 is due in a great measure to the active interest each man is taking in working for the betterment of the organization as a whole, and to the fact that each man is alert and energetic.The record of sales made this year is considered quite remarkable and April has started off in splendid shape with eight sales to date, reports Mr. Hayward. An attempt to reach 45 sales will be made in April. That was the aim in March and a stronger effort will be made in April to reach the goal.Mr. McCartney, manager of the construction department, brought splendid news of the progress along that line, also a record to be proud of.SALE CONFIRMEDDETROIT, April 4.—Dodge man of the Advisory Council of the movement.In his letter to Hoover, President Coolidge said:

"The American home is the foundation of our national and individual well being. Its steady improvement is, at the same time, a test of our civilization and our ideals. The Better Homes in America movement provides a channel through which men and women in each community can encourage the building, ornamenting and owning of private homes by the people at large. We need attractive, worthy, permanent homes that lighten the burden of housekeeping. We need homes in which home life can reach its highest levels, and in which can be reared happy children and upright citizens.""I commend participation in Better Homes demonstrations and in the other work of the movements to the American people."COTTON ESTIMATEFRESNO, Calif., April 4.—Cotton growers in Southern San ity of Bass-Hueter paints, he deulated on having come to Glendale at such a favorable time; builders generally report a very good busi-

Fine Plan for Narrow Lot

Especially designed for a narrow, sloping lot. The room arrangement will also be found very unique as well as convenient.

A dandy plan for a narrow lot—one created for a lot sloping to the rear. This plan, while developed to fit a lot which slopes 8 feet in 54 feet, the length of the building, with minor changes, would be just as practical for a level lot.

The general exterior design of this home is very attractive, practical and well proportioned, and the stucco may be applied over tile, brick, composition material, wood or metal lath.

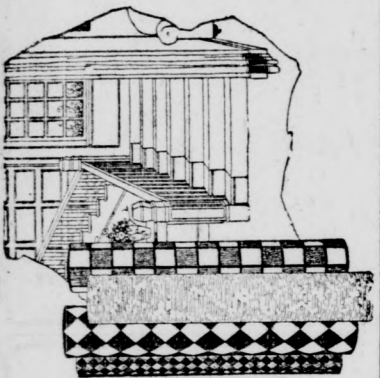

There are special features incorporated in the room arrangement making this plan unique and distinctive, such as the vestibule entry, sleeping porch and spacious rear balcony. Each of these rooms is large and well ventilated, in which are incorporated all built-in features.

This plan will care for requirements not usually found in stock building ideas.

Home Builders' Questions Asked

Q.—We have been told that we could save some expense in building our home by reducing the size of the joists, though still having them safe, and by leaving out the subflooring all over the house. Is this a wise thing to do?

A.—It is not. Of course you can get the joists too heavy, but it is not probable that the plans will be laid out in that way by any competent person. If you omit the subflooring you lose the bracing of the joists you ought to have.

have. Wherever the joists change direction the finished floors will have to change also, so you may have this flooring running in different directions in different rooms, which will be bad. Leave off the porch and other extravagances if you want to cut down expenses.

Q.—We are told we may save almost $1000 by omitting the fireplace and sunroom of our new house. If we should decide to sell, in what proportion would the market value be lowered?

A.—You can probably save this sum. The market value might be lowered by considerably more than $1000 in the minds of some people, to whom these accommodations would especially appeal.

Q.—How should we insulate the walls of a house we are building from natural field stone?

A.—We suggest that you cover the inside of the walls with waterproof paper and then strip them. Lath and plaster goes over the stripping.

Q.—We have found that wide siding is more expensive than narrow. Why is this? Certainly there is less labor required in preparing the boards.

A.—It is more difficult to get a clear grade of wood for a larger piece than for a smaller one. Also the wide siding must be thicker than the narrower widths. The difference in cost is made up of these two items.

Q.—In order to build a home we must borrow about one-fourth of the value of our home and lot on a second mortgage which we shall pay off, in addition to the money borrowed on a first mortgage, by monthly installments. Will not this procedure be expensive and burdensome?

A.—It will probably be burdensome until you get the second mortgage cleared off. That probably will not run over a year and a half. After that you should have a comparatively easy time of it.

HOUSING OPERATIONS SHOW IMPROVEMENTS

Building Permits for 1590 Dwellings
And Apartments Reported Issued
In Los Angeles During March

Los Angeles' building total for March, 1925, fell short of fifteen millions, but it was nevertheless a very good showing. The number of permits issued by the city building department was 4264, with an estimated valuation of $14,714,002, as compared with 5256 permits with an estimated valuation of $17,279,758 for the same month a year ago. March was the peak month for building in 1924. For February, 1925, the number of permits was 3336 and the estimated valuation was $10,884,244.

Class A construction started during March amounted to $2,380,000 for ten structures, and Class C construction amounted to $1,745,033 for seventy-eight structures. Class D, all frame construction, totaled $6,634,310 for 2976 buildings.

For the first three months of 1925, Los Angeles building total was $36,769,408, or $9,752,288 less than for the first three months of 1924. Following are the totals by months for the first quarter of 1924 and 1925:

	1925	1924
January	$11,171,162	$13,158,526
February	$10,884,244	$16,083,412
March	$14,714,002	$17,279,758
Totals	$36,769,408	$46,521,696

Housing operations for March made a better showing than for several months. They were represented by 1590 permits for dwellings and apartments with an estimated valuation of $6,611,413, or 37.3 per cent of the entire number of permits and 44.9 per cent of the entire valuation for the month. Accommodations will be provided by these buildings for 2362 families, or an addition to the city's population of approximately 10,156 persons computed on the census ratio of 4.3 persons to a family. Housing operations for the first three months of 1925 are shown by the following figures:

	No. permits	Value	No. families
January	1388	$ 5,781,731	2063
February	1150	$ 5,032,350	1703
March	1590	$ 6,611,413	2362
Totals	4128	$17,425,494	6128

Computed on the census ratio of 4.3 persons to a family, housing operations during the first three months of 1925 will provide accommodations for an addition of approximately 26,351 to the city's population. This shows a very healthy growth of the city, as the present volume of housing does not appear to be in excess of the absorption.

Nishi Nursery Co. Announces Big Sale

The Nishi Nursery Co., located at 1603 East Colorado boulevard, which owns and operates the largest individual nursery in Glendale, announce a large spring discount sale of trees and shrubbery.

Many people of Glendale who are not already acquainted with this large nursery will be pleasantly surprised when, upon inspection, they see the immense stock ready for immediate delivery.

Through the large volume of business and low overhead expense the Nishi company claims to sell at prices as low or lower than any other nursery in Los Angeles county.

Mountain Fence Contract Awarded

Fencing for the 160-acre estate of G. P. Thresher, situated just north of the Olive View sanitarium at San Fernando, has been started by the Crown Fence Co. of Pasadena. The difficulties of construction on this job are very great, due to the extreme grades, ruggedness and inaccessibility of the land.

Six tons of steel fence posts are being used, each post being set in the ground in concrete. The job requires 12,000 feet of triangle mesh woven wire fencing and 18,000 feet of barbed wire.

Local labor and teams are being used for most of the work. The Crown Fence Co., located at 890 South Broadway, Pasadena, states that the job will take five or six local men and two of their own men at least a full month to complete.

POPULATION FOR VALLEY BOOSTED

Since 1920 San Fernando Has Increased 215 Per Cent, Chamber Told

San Fernando valley's population has jumped from 22,569 in 1920 to 71,138 in 1925, a gain of 215 per cent in five years. Such were the amazing figures revealed in a conservative estimate based on school attendance records, and announced by Victor Girard in a speech at the first annual banquet of the Ventura Boulevard Chamber of Commerce last Thursday.

San Fernando valley's present population represents a yearly purchasing power of $35,369,000, according to the figures revealed. San Fernando valley's population growth averages 40 per cent a year over the last five years, and intensive development now in full swing all over the valley will even increase this figure during the next few years, Mr. Girard told Ventura Boulevard Chamber of Commerce banqueters.

To Tunnel Hills
"Hollywood foothills will be a solidly-built-up residential section," John P. Kennedy, Los Angeles banker, said in a speech discussing the future of the valley. "Before long we will have tunnels through the hills that will bring San Fernando valley within fifteen minutes of the beaches."

$134,000 REALTY SALES IN MONTH

Hart Company Reports Good Business; David Black Residence Sold

A realty transaction involving $75,000 has given ownership of the David Black home, 250 Kenneth road, to F. W. Corey, according to an announcement today by officials of the Hart Realty Co., 205 West Broadway, through which office the sale was handled. The realty company completed sales during March totaling $134,000.

The David Black residence is one of Glendale's show places and is considered one of the most valuable properties on Kenneth road. According to the terms of the sale Black has taken over income property at 110 East Chestnut street formerly owned by Corey. Until a few years ago Black owned eleven acres on Kenneth road. Much of that has now been subdivided and sold to home owners.

Many Transactions

Other important transactions completed by the Hart Realty Co. during March include the sale of a Portland, Ore., residence for $12,500; 160 acres of Colorado land for $5500, 320 acres of Colorado property for $8000; a Beaumont, Calif., apple orchard for $7500; Windsor road home, Glendale, $10,500; lot on Raymond avenue, $1500; Sonora street bungalow, $6500; Verdugo City home, $3500; three lots in Los Angeles, $3500.

The firm specializes in Portland properties for exchange.

Pomona Valley Realtors To Picnic On May 16

Plans have been instigated by the Pomona Valley Realty board, Frank C. Ellis, president, for a monster picnic at Ganesha park on Saturday, May 16. It is suggested to make it a field day with sports, music, big picnic dinner and splendid program of entertainment. Clyde A. Gates, president of the picnic association, is in charge of the arrangements.

J. S. King Joins Local Linoleum Co.

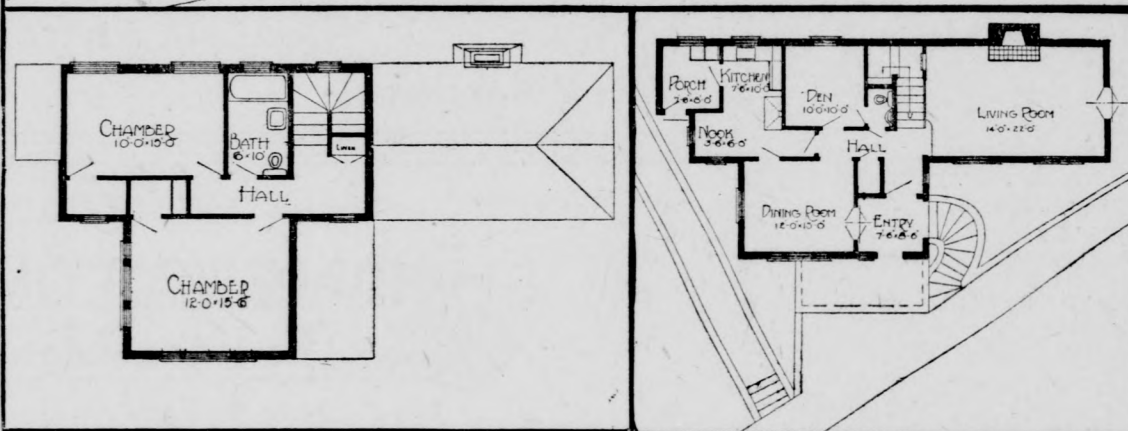

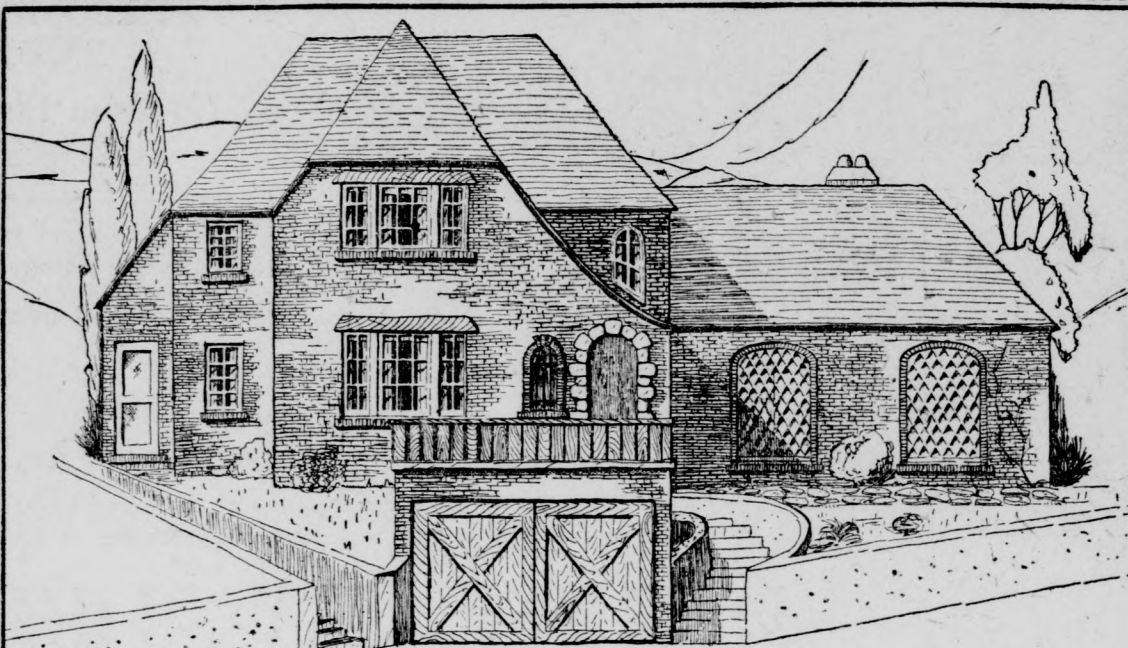

G. V. Gilbert, manager of the Keystone Shade & Linoleum Co., 212 South Central avenue announces addition to his force of workmen, having secured the services of J. S. King, an expert on the laying of linoleums. Mr. King has been associated with the linoleum, rug and drapery business for the past twenty years.

Success in beautifying a room with linoleum depends largely upon whether it is laid properly, according to Mr. Gilbert. He feels he has added greatly to the strength of his organization in securing the services of Mr. King.

Building on Odd Shaped Lots

The accompanying drawings are the plans of a home recently designed for a prominent Glendale resident associated with the motion picture industry in Hollywood. John T. Bibb, the well-known local contractor, is the designer and builder of this beautiful residence.

Plans submitted by JOHN T. BIBB, Designer and Builder 214 North Brand Boulevard

The lot upon which it is being constructed is on a hillside and is of a peculiar triangular shape, tapering nearly to a point at the narrow end. To take advantage of the best view and to get the proper setting for the house it was necessary to build as far into this narrow part of the lot as possible. This, of course, presented many building problems and necessitated the designing of a house to fit the lot. Still it offered splendid possibilities for working out a beautiful and original exterior design.

The sketch shows the charming result of Mr. Bibb's efforts.

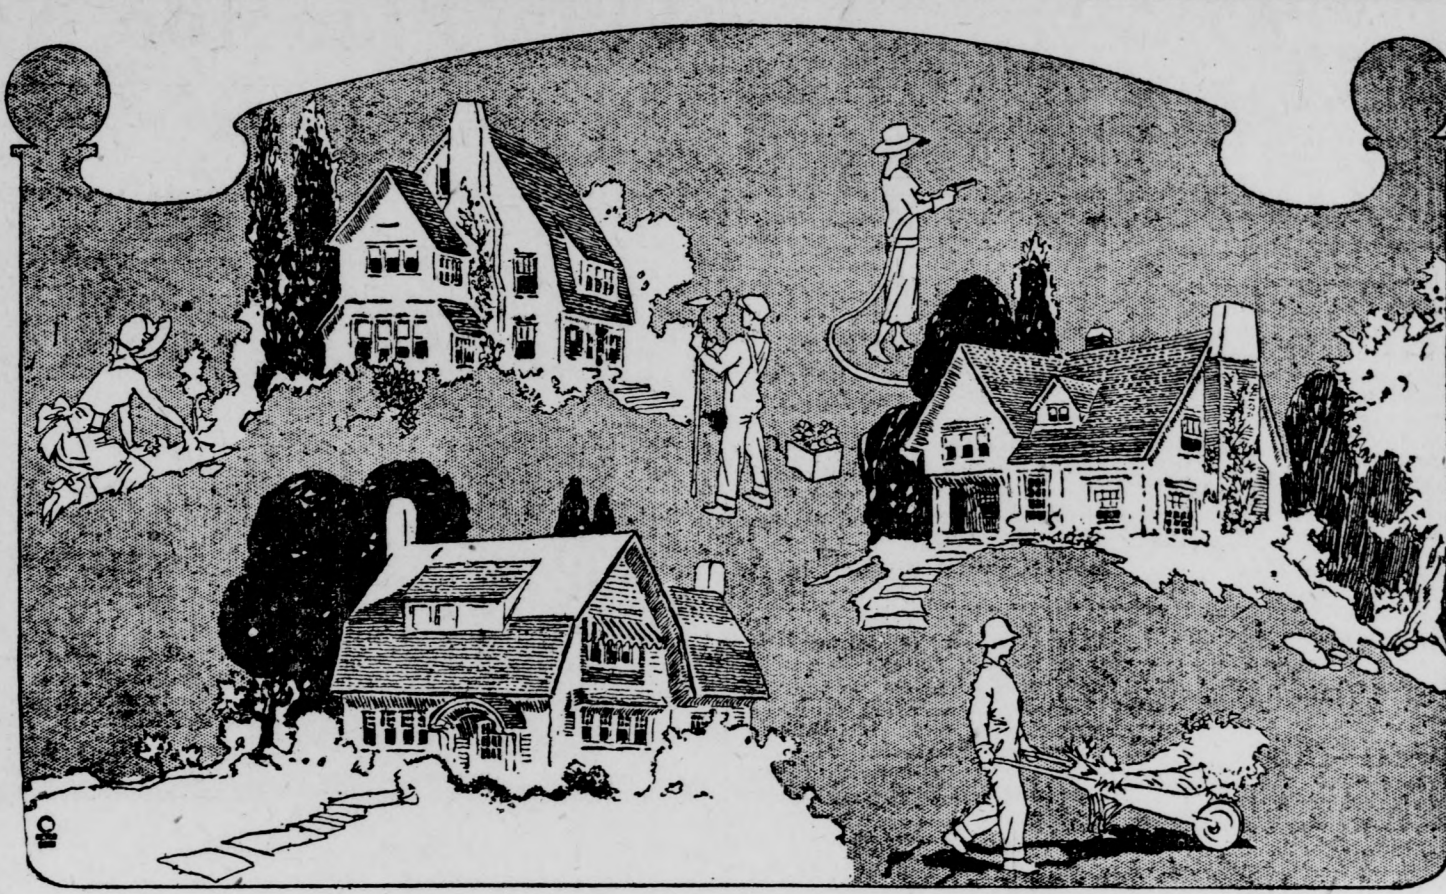

After completing the plans it was discovered that, although the house was designed for one particular lot, it could be used very effectively on a rectangular and level lot.

Mr. Bibb will gladly give any further information regarding plans to anyone who is interested and will call at 214 North Brand boulevard.

STAGE COMEDIAN BROKE IN LONDON

Frank Tinney Found Living
In Cheap Hotel As Wife Asks Divorce

By HARRY FLORY
For International News Service.
LONDON, April 4.—Frank Tinney, black-faced comedian, is dead broke and without the price of a meal. That was his own declaration today in his shabby quarters here when news reached London that his wife had secured permission to withdraw her separation action in order to institute divorce proceedings.

The comedian, heralded as the exponent of ruthlessness in love in New York court actions last summer, is without an engagement. He is living in a small, single room in an obscure hotel, devoid of even the small luxury of running water. An old fashioned wash bowl and a pitcher serve instead.

Atop his bureau today stood a partly consumed can of baked beans. Frank said there were crackers and cheese in the bottom drawer. Heretofore, Tinney has lived in style in a spacious apartment with a retinue of three or four servants.

In the modest surroundings where he received guests today, Tinney described his meeting with Attorney Oshrin, who secured evidence for Mrs. Tinney that the comedian admits will support a divorce action. Tinney was staying at a Newcastle hotel.

Gas Tax Plan Is All Wrong, Says Lawyer

litical log rolling undertaken to "trade" highway expenditures for votes for the gasoline tax increases may be well understood. "With these facts being more generally disseminated, opposition to the proposed legislation at Sacramento is constantly growing stiffer. If the people of Southern California will make their opposition even more thoroughly known it may be confidently predicted that the majority of the legislators will comply with public sentiment and refuse to impose further taxes on the motoring public.

Means' Reputation For Indictments Is Upheld

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Gordon B. Means, who once told a congressional investigating committee that his principal avocation was "amusing the public," was again indicted here today—this time on charges of forgery. Means was charged in the indictment with having forged the name of Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, to a letter. Brookhart was chairman of the Senate committee, which investigated the department of justice.

River Jungles Combed For 11-Year-Old Girl

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Police of Sacramento and Yolo counties made a thorough but unsuccessful search of the Sacramento river jungles during the night for Santos Palafos, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Palafos, who disappeared two days ago from the tent in which her family lived. Evidences of a struggle in the tent tend to confirm the theory of the mother that her daughter was kidnapped, according to police.

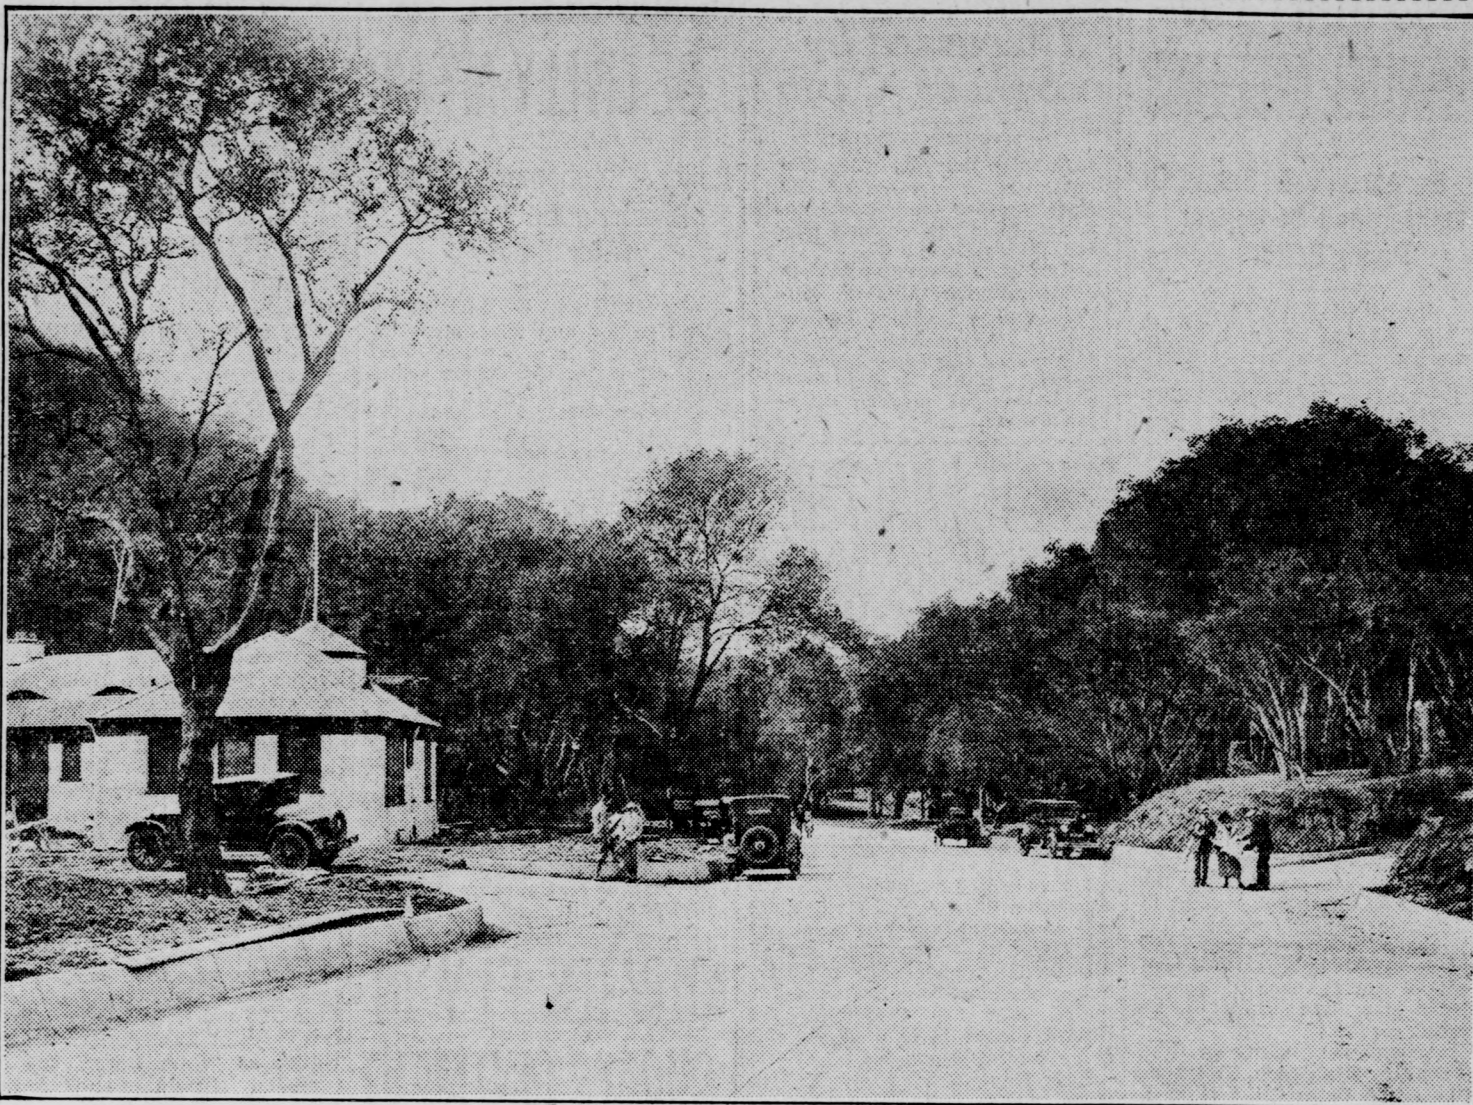

Colonel Cheney Named Coolidge's Senior Aide

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Colonel Sherwood A. Cheney of Connecticut today was appointed senior military aide to President Coolidge. He succeeds Lieutenant-Colonel Clarence O. Sherrill who is to devote all his time to his duties as director of parks and buildings. Cheney, stationed with the engineering corps at Fort Humphrey, Va., has recently been military attaché at Peking, China.

Attractive Office at Chevy Chase

This imposing structure, shown below, was designed by FRANZ HERDING, city planning architect for the tract opened recently on the Bert Farrar estate. R. H. DUCE was the builder, and the office has been admired by many persons who visited CHEVY CHASE to purchase lots. Mr. Farrar reports the first unit has been sold and the second unit will be placed on the market shortly.

Bert Farrar announces this week the completed sale of the first unit of Chevy Chase just four weeks after this 30-acre area was placed on the market. When this unit was opened on March 8, the roads and much of the other improvement work in the section offered for sale was practically completed. Now that this initial offering is all sold out every effort is being made to prepare the second unit for sale within the next two or three weeks.

During the preparation of this additional 30-acres at the Glendale gateway to Chevy Chase, it will be possible for those who desire homesites in this tract to make advance reservations, according to a bulletin issued by P. E. McDermott, sales manager for Bert Farrar, Inc. This will not involve a long delay, McDermott said, as the new road work is expected to be complete within the next thirty days at the most and other improvement work will rapidly follow the new road system.

One of the features of the first unit sale is the large number of purchasers who bought to build, according to Franz Herding, City Planning architect for Chevy Chase. Over half of the hundred or more buyers have consulted Mr. Herding for advice as to the best types of homes to build on these individually-planned homesites, it is stated. This architectural advice is provided without charge to all purchasers in Chevy Chase in order to assure an attractive ensemble effect of the community when solidly built up. All plans for new homes in Chevy Chase are approved by a special art jury of architects before construction is authorized, stated Farrar, who explains that this is done for the better protection of the distinctive home atmosphere of the property.

JAPS SUSPICIOUS OF SAM AND JOHN

Newspapers Give Views of America and Britain's Unpeaceful Acts

TOKIO, April 4.—A strong undercurrent of suspicion of the motives of the United States and of Great Britain tinged the comment of leading Japanese newspapers on the proposal of a new international conference to discuss further limitations of armaments.

The burden of Japanese newspapers' complaint against the United States and England is that these nations are not themselves peace promoting the spirit of peace in their conduct of international relations. Two acts, one by America, the other by Great Britain, always are cited in this connection.

Against America the charge is laid that her legislation excluding Japanese immigrants from the United States is a blow at world peace. To England's door is laid the charge that her plans to fortify the Singapore naval base is a threat against Japan.

The Osahi, an influential newspaper, charges that Great Britain is maneuvering to have the United States summon a new arms parity so that if it fails the blame may fall upon America. British "cunning," also, according to this paper, seeks to involve Japan and France in the difficult question of responsibility if they refuse to participate in the conference which the United States probably will propose.

Quadra Defendants File Appeal To Conviction

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Notice of appeal was filed today in the cases of twelve persons convicted of conspiracy to violate the national prohibition laws in the Quadra case. Seventeen members of the crew of the rum runner were acquitted and released today with admonition "to keep away from rum ships."

STUDENT ENDS LIFE

BERKELEY, Cal., April 4.—After attending a dance on the campus, Abel Zamora, 19-year-old University of California freshman and scion of a wealthy Guatemalan family, returned to his apartment early today and committed suicide by shooting himself. The body was found late this afternoon by the landlady who became alarmed when Zamora failed to answer his telephone. In a farewell note which did not explain the cause of his act, Zamora mentioned the name of a girl called "Della." Police are searching for her in the hope that she may be able to unravel the mystery surrounding the youth's suicide.

SUN SPOTS FOUND TIME'S PROPHETS

Swedish Statistician Tells Causes of War, Booms
And Dullness

STOCKHOLM, April 4.—Sun spots are the ultimate causes of war, business booms and the alternating periods of dull markets, says Axel F. Enstrom, director of Sweden's Engineering academy and one of the country's most eminent statisticians.

In 1905 he received the Carnegie Iron and Steel Institute Medal for his work on electrification problems; but in recent years he has specialized in the study of the periodic recurrence of "good" and "bad" times in business, which, he believes, can be predicted by the use of statistical tables.

Depression Due
In a book published in 1914, he foretold that a peak of high prices would come in 1918, and now he calculates that the present "boom," with rising prices, will continue until 1927, when another depression is due. After that another war is not unlikely, he concludes, because when food is scarce nations fight for what there is.

Briefly, his theory is that at regular intervals occurs a diminution in the amount of energy flowing from the sun to the earth, indicated by variations in the sun's so-called "spots."

DEATH SENTENCE FOR SUPER-BANDIT

Gerald Chapman to Pay
With Life For Murder of Policeman Skelly

HARTFORD, Conn., April 4.—Gerald Chapman, notorious super-bandit, was today found guilty of first-degree murder by a jury in superior court of the murder of James Skelly, a policeman, who was shot and killed during the holdup of a department store in New Britain, Conn., on October 12, last.

Chapman was brought from the "pen" and faced Judge Jennings with arms folded. After reading the sentence of death—execution on June 25—Judge Jennings asked: "Have you anything to say, Gerald Chapman?"

"I have not," Chapman replied in a soft, even voice. Before imposing the death penalty, Judge Jennings denied a motion presented by Chapman's counsel for the setting aside of the verdict. Chapman listened to his doom with cold, gray eyes. His face was ashen beneath a prison pallor, but his eyes were ice. Halfway through the reading of the fatal words, the bandit smiled.

SCHOOL TEACHER TO CONDUCT TOUR

Miss Dorothy Gilson, Union High, To Head Party Through Europe

By WARD FOULTZ
Because of her special ability for the work, Miss Dorothy Gilson, of the Glendale Union high school language department, has been chosen to conduct one of the select Temple tours through France, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and England.

Miss Gilson, who has previously traveled and studied in Europe for a year, will take charge of the party at New York. They will leave there on the S. S. "Suffren," June 30.

The trip will include the most important of the places of interest in Europe including Paris, Avignon, Nice, Monte Carlo, the Maritime Alps, the Italian Riviera, the Leaning Tower of Pisa, Rome, Naples, Pompeii, Florence, Venice, Milan, Lucerne, Heidelberg, the Rhine, Cologne, Amsterdam, Brussels, London, Quebec and Montreal. The party will return late in August.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND PUTS ON PROGRAM

Glendale High Organization With Glee Club Heard In Recital

By JOHN PARKER
Under the able direction of Irving Ulmer the Glendale High School Band presented an original and interesting program Thursday, April 2 in the high school auditorium. The dramatic class presented a one-act play and several songs given by the Boys' and Girls' Glee club were added features.

The band, composed of thirty-one boys opened the program with several stirring selections. The boys gave these with remarkable technique. Their leader, Mr. Ulmer, has directed the band for several months and has made masterful progress.

Boys' Glee Club
The Boys' Glee club, led by Mrs. Charles Parker, sang three splendidly rendered numbers. The girls also under the direction of Mrs. Parker, sang "The Evening Star" and "The Moonlight Song."

The band, composed of thirty-one boys opened the program with several stirring selections. The boys gave these with remarkable technique. Their leader, Mr. Ulmer, has directed the band for several months and has made masterful progress.

Appearing again, the band played two more selections including "The Evening Star" by Joyce Farr and "El Capitán," by Sousa.

Broadway High French Club Presents Program

By VIRGINIA EDWARDS
On Friday afternoon, March 27, in the music room of the Broadway high school, the French club held a meeting, during which a program arranged by members of the club was given, consisting of French folk songs by Elly Christensen; several translations of popular songs by Ruan Coli, who was accompanied on the ukulele by Katherine Baird; a piano solo by Francis Kubert; and a vocal solo in French by Ida Amstead.

Slight-of-hand tricks and conjurations were features of the afternoon's entertainment. Refreshments were served by a committee under the instruction of Mrs. E. W. Bailey, French instructor.

Girls' Athletic Club Plans Mountain Hike

By MARJORIE PHILLIPS
The Girls' Athletic club, of Broadway high school, have completed their plans for a one-day hike to Mount Wilson Saturday, April 18.

The girls will ride to Sierra Madre, at the foot of the mountains, and then hike up to the top, returning the same day. Each girl will carry her own lunch. Two years ago the club hiked to Mount Wilson, and the trip was conceded to be one of the most enjoyable hikes ever taken by the Girls' Athletic club.

Broadway High Girls To Get Sport Emblems

By MARJORIE PHILLIPS
Over fifty Broadway high girls who have won their "G" in athletics will be presented with their letters in an assembly to be held soon. These girls have worked faithfully for their laurels in different athletic events. Many of them will also be awarded emblems. To win a letter a girl must have won 500 credits in gym. Emblems are given for every 100 credits over this mark.

Credits are given for attendance, for raising grades, for special work done in the hiking and swimming clubs, and for being on any of the school or class teams.

Typewriting Contest Set For Pasadena

By EDNA WARREN
At Pasadena high school on April 25, a typewriting contest will be held in which the six following schools will compete: Santa Monica, Venice, South Pasadena, Alhambra, Puente and Glendale.

The winner of this contest will enter into the Southern California contest at Alhambra high school, May 9.

Glendale has some very competent typists and its contestants hope to take first honors.

STUDENTS TO AID REFUGEE ORPHANS

Near East Relief Executive Urges School Pupils To Send Help

By MERTON EGGERS
Students of Glendale Union High school will get a chance to help Armenian refugees through the medium of the Near East relief.

Charles Miller, representing the relief organization, spoke to the students during roll periods Wednesday. He described the terrible conditions existing among the refugees, and appealed to the students for aid for the suffering children.

After Mr. Miller's talk, a movie, "His Neighbor's Good," was shown. It pictured the contrast between the orphans under the care of the Near East relief, and those "outside the fence." The movie showed blind children being taught to read and to weave baskets.

Assistance Urged
Many of the orphans have tuberculosis and other diseases caused by filth and ignorance. Most of the refugee children are clothed in rags, and are starving before coming under American care.

The students were asked to bring bundles of discarded clothing to school, to be given to the Near East relief. The boys and girls are having a contest to see who can bring the biggest pile of bundles.

Checks to help the orphans should be sent to the Near East relief, 517 1/2 Wright building, Los Angeles.

Band Assembly Music Program Announced

The next program of the Band Assembly of Glendale Union High school follows:

Catalina March, Porter; Overture, "Superba," Dabney; waltz, "Rocky Top," My Baby Blues; "Just Smile, Parks," "Nevins"; Paul Bliss; "Katy-Did," Parks; one-act play, "Moonshine." Characters: Luke Hazy, George Parkhill; revenue officer, Ralph Timothly; American patrol, Meacham; "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," Tate; band (baritone solo, Joyce Farr); "The Woodpecker," Nevins; "A Big Brown Bear," Mann; Zucca; "A Modern Hiawatha," Bliss; "O Sole Mio," tenor solo with band accompaniment, Craig Leach and band; march, "El Capitán," Sousa.

The band under direction of Irving C. Ulmer, Glee clubs under direction of Mrs. Charles A. Parker. Play directed by Harold A. Brewster, with accompanists Lucille Beach and Frederick Brown.

One-Act Comedy To Be Presented By League

By GENE LYNCH
"Getting Off," a clever comedy in one act, will be presented by the Girls' League assembly, in the Broadway high school auditorium, Thursday, April 16. This comedy had been presented by the students once before at La Cresenta school on Friday, March 13 for a benefit program. The play was well received as it contains many humorous situations.

The cast which was selected by Harold L. Brewster, from his dramatic students, follows: Grandma Blessington, Ruth Price; Mrs. Cummings, her daughter, Edith Bayley; Hildegarde Cummings, Winnifred Brewer; Julia Cummings, Elizabeth Garton; Noma Cummings, Elizabeth Beaver, Jean Henry and William Thornton, Lela Anderson.

Girls' Club Gives CHILDREN'S PARTY

Union High School League Entertains Tots At Boyd Street

By MARIAN DEXEY
The Girls' League of the Glendale Union high school entertained about forty children from the Boyd street school of Los Angeles, Thursday. The party was held in the patio and arcade of the Broadway high school.

Marjorie Temple, assisted by Esther Hopper and Lucille Beach, arranged and planned the affair in a way which made it enjoyed by all the children.

An egg hunt was an interesting feature of the party, and a good part of the afternoon was spent in hunting for the egg-filled baskets. Easter, etc., which were concealed in the shrubbery.

Big Surprise Games were played for a short time, after which came the big surprise. The arcade was set with tables, and it was here that delightful refreshments of ice cream, cookies and Easter favors were served to the kiddies.

The machines, driven by the girls that called for the children at 1:30 o'clock, returned a very happy group to their teacher at 4 o'clock.

The expense of this party was met by voluntary contributions from the girls.

PRESS STAFFS IN ANNUAL MEETING

San Bernardino Is Scene Of Conference Of School 'Paper Editors

By EDNA WARREN
At the annual meeting of the Southern California Press association held Friday, March 27, at San Bernardino high school, Glendale high school was selected as the place for the next meeting.

Delegates from every high school attended these meetings to represent their school paper and annual. Many interesting talks were given by prominent journalists on topics dealing with the make-up and publication of school papers and annuals.

This year the delegates were divided into groups in order to discuss fully the various needs of their papers. It was found that the Explosion, the paper published by Glendale high school is run on a very sound basis in comparison with other papers because it does not depend upon advertisements for necessary funds for publication.

Contest Winners
A short business meeting was held in order to announce the winner of the paper contest. The contestants were divided into three groups—Class A, the smallest school paper; Class B, those of medium size, and Class C, the largest.

Van Nuys was winner in Class A; Franklin High took first place in Class B, and in Class C Pasadena Chronicle was first, Hollywood second, and Lincoln, third.

An interesting program was given by high school talent, and a luncheon was served by the San Bernardino Parent-Teachers' association.

Several members of the Explosion and Stylus staff were present at the convention.

LOS ANGELES

By Southland News Service.
LOS ANGELES, April 4.—A traffic court will be established at police headquarters by recommendations of the police judges are carried out. The seven police judges are to meet today to discuss the plan and Judge Joseph Chambers is to preside over the new court if the plan is adopted.

Jonathan Beggs celebrated his 101st birthday amid a host of friends at Sunland Thursday. Beggs was born April 2, 1824, in Glasteller, Highland valley, Scotland. Although a bachelor, he said that had nothing to do with his being a ripe old age, but plain living, plain food, plenty of hard work and sufficient sleep are given credit.

Jean Coulston, of 25 Roberts street, Pasadena, jumped off the Fifth street dock, San Pedro, Thursday, in an attempt to swim the channel to avoid detention by a policeman. Thousands of fleet visitors saw the daring attempt. A taxi deckhand rescued her from the water. The girl has been missing from home for weeks.

School buildings, grounds and other assets of the Los Angeles school district are valued at more than $77,000,000, according to a report adopted by the Board of Education. Plans for the proposed $1,000,000 Frank Wilkins school will not be perfected until the City Council decides on a policy of improvement of Olive street.

Eighteen per cent more persons made inquiry of the All-Year club of Southern California last month than in the same month of 1922, the year of the greatest travel here in history. The inquiries for 1923 and 1925 were from the same amount of advertising.

Twenty men were arrested in a raid on a gambling house at 7243 Santa Monica boulevard by sheriff's deputies last night. According to Captain Bond there was $585 in cash on the tables and many varieties of games in progress.

Filtration of gin or dilution with water, proposed for the quantity hereafter will mean extra added penalties in federal court in the event of an arrest for possession or sale, according to an announcement today by Rex B. Goodrich, collector of internal revenue. The measure of the gin is the rectification within the meaning of the law, he said, and renders the offender liable to a fine of from $1000 to $4500 in each case.

Jacob Ginsberg, former tailor, was indicted by the federal grand jury on a charge of perjury given at a naturalization hearing on December 24, 1922. The tailor testified he had lived here continuously from March, 1907, but it was found he had served in the British army from August 9, 1918, to May 29, 1919.

Mrs. Rose Wolfe, found guilty of striking Principal C. W. Ward of the East First street school with a stick and knocking his glasses off was given a 90-day suspended jail sentence by Police Judge Bullock.

DAVE SHADE ILL

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—A worthy opponent for Jimmy Duffy of Oakland was being sought today following news that Dave Shade, carded to meet him here April 18, was ill in Boston.

Patsy Flannigan Is Winner At Bay City

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Though a fast finish in a closely contested bout, Patsy Flannigan of St. Louis won a ten-round decision last night from Tuffy Wing of Portland. Wing led in the first five rounds, but Flannigan came back in the last five sufficiently, the referee believed, to overcome the lead. The ninth and tenth rounds were a pretty exhibition of fast work. Wing's right eye was closed when the bout ended. Flannigan's left-hook was his major point-getter. Buddy McDonald took a six-round semi-final from Joe Schlocker.

Girls Give Interesting Program in Auditorium

By MERTON EGGERS
Several amusing and entertaining selections were given Tuesday at a Girls' League program in the auditorium.

Twelve girls of the Glee club sang "Uncle Moon" and "Muddy" sang "Elephant." Marjorie Temple, dressed in an Italian costume, delivered several recitations in broken English. Julia Pelly gave a scarf dance.

Spanish Art Discussed by School Club

By MERTON EGGERS
Spanish painters were discussed at a meeting of the B II Spanish club, Los Filo-sophos, during the second period Friday, March 27.

Dorothy Landis and Alma Johnson gave talks on Murillo and Velasquez, respectively. These were the most famous of the early Spanish artists. Nelda McClain told about several modern Spanish artists.

SENATE ENACTED BY CIVICS CLASS

National Politics Discussed, Bills Presented By School Solons

By WARD FOULTZ
Entering into the strife of national politics, a dignified Senate composed of members of Mr. Mussatti's third period civics class was in session for one week, at the Glendale Union High school. An excellent opportunity for practicing parliamentary law and for seeing how the Senate of the United States is carried on was given to the students.

The Republican party had as their leader Miss Bonnie Jean Lockwood who was also president pro tem of the Senate. The floor leader of the opposing Democrats was Ellsworth de Parcq. Muriel Billington held the office of Secretary of the Senate while Alice Kramer acted as sergeant-at-arms.

The first day of the session will go down as the most exciting one in the history of this high school Senate. The Democrats, led by Miss Velma Bolton, made a blood-thirsty attempt to expel Senator Pauline Miller of New York, but they were finally unsuccessful as the Senate adjourned.

Sessions Opens
On the first day of the session, the students, acting as senators, brought in various bills, referred them to committees, took them back to the Senate, debated on them and finally either passed or rejected them.

The second day, the Democrats led by de Parcq, attempted to filibuster and prevent the passage of any legislation by copying after the real senators and repeatedly rising to points of order or personal privilege and by demanding the taking of the roll. Their malicious designs, however, were defeated by the Republicans who outnumbered them.

A heated debate on American entrance in the World court took place on the third day. Advice and consent to make the United States a member of the World court was given to the president.

The attempt to expel Senator Pauline Miller was made on the last day of the Senate's session, but further conflict was prevented when the Senate adjourned sine die at 10:55 a. m.

CITIZEN TRAINING CAMP DATES SET

California Instruction to Start In June, Fort Winfield Scott

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Citizen training camps, conducted by the war department, will be open in California in June, it is announced from military headquarters at the Presidio.

The first will be established at Fort Winfield Scott, Presidio of San Francisco, June 20 to August 19. Citizens will be taught how to operate the big guns that guard the Golden Gate under the supervision of Lieutenant Colonel J. P. Spurr, C. A. C.

The second and largest state camp will be located at Del Monte, July 21 to August 19, with Colonel E. V. Smith, Chief of Staff of the 1st Division, in charge.

Plenty of exercise, fresh air and good food is the policy of Colonel Smith, who is well known in the army as an authority on subsistence. He supervised the Del Monte camps in 1922 and 1924.

Three thousand citizens will be in attendance at the two camps and the five others in the Ninth Corps Area will be located at Camp Lewis, Fort George Wright and Fort Worden, Washington and Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming, and Fort Douglas, Utah.

Broadcast Lectures At Los Angeles Sunday

The Christian Science services on first Sunday of each month are broadcast over KFI at 11 o'clock. A Christian Science lecture, to be given by Robert Stanley Ross, C. S., of New York city, lecturing at the Philharmonic auditorium, will be broadcast by KFI tomorrow. The lecture begins at 12:10 o'clock. Those wishing to listen in will be welcome at the home of Mrs. Ella W. Richardson, 317 North Brand boulevard.

CLASS DEBATE TO BE LIVELY AFFAIR

Junior - Sophomore Teams Brushing Up For Tilt After Easter

By VIRGINIA EDWARDS
The junior and sophomore debating teams are putting forth much effort for the debate which will be held during the record week after Easter vacation. The question is, "Resolved: That the child labor amendment to the constitution should be ratified." The sophomore team will uphold the affirmative and the junior team the negative.

Formerly faculty coaches have helped the teams, but for this debate, they are to have student coaches. James Sargent will coach the juniors, and Marie Griggs the sophomores.

Trophy At Stake

This debate gives promise of being a good contest, for which the winning class will receive the Anderson debating trophy.

The first obstacle on which the sophomores have stuck with up of Mary Scholles, Dorothy Irwin and Catherine Browne composing the junior team are Jerome Andrews, Radcliffe Clausen and Fred Fallis.

NITRATES FLY IN SHOALS OINTMENT

Manufacture of Chemicals Drawback to Placing Government Land

By J. C. ROYLE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.
MUSCLE SHOALS, Ala., April 4.—The first obstacle on which President Coolidge's committee to investigate the proper thing to do with Muscle Shoals, will stub its foot, is the manufacture of nitrates. Every time nitrates are mentioned prospective seekers after the right to operate the great hydroelectric power development on the Tennessee River duck with the unanimity of untold troops hearing the whine of a rifle bullet.

There is no question that big financial interests desire to lease the electric power of Muscle Shoals, over a long term. The tremendous industrial and commercial development of the south in prospect assures that. The trouble is they want to "let George do it," when it comes to manufacturing nitrates.

Nitrates Hitch
The truth is, nobody seems to know just how much it is going to cost to make nitrates. The two nitrate plants have a capacity estimated at 40,000 tons a year. The process, briefly, is to compress air to liquid form and force it through jets over a bed of incandescent coke. The coke is converted, releasing the nitrogen in the air and combining it with other element.

The commercial chemicals formed, such as calcium nitrate and others, are of some value but no one in this section seems willing to guess what profit or loss might be encountered in the manufacture of 40,000 tons of nitrate a year.

The Ford offer, now withdrawn, provided for the operation of the plants on a cost plus basis. It is understood the American cyanide interests might be willing to operate the plants under a guarantee against loss by the government but the nitrates continue to fly in the Muscle Shoals intment.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, April 4.—A settling basin is the logical solution of Burbank's flood control problem as it applies to South canyon, in the opinion of City Engineer A. J. Rose. The plan is also endorsed by A. E. Ingraham of the county flood control department, who investigated conditions here at the invitation of Burbank city officials. Rose plans to provide a basin by excavation below the surface of the ground rather than by means of a dam. An appropriation will be sought from the proposed bond issue for the Big Tujunga dam. Data and estimates will be submitted to the county flood control officials within the next few days.

More than sixty persons attended a pot luck dinner served at the quarterly meeting of the Christian church. An interesting program was presented.

The Coyotes patrol of the Hansen Heights Boy Scouts reorganized into two patrols at a meeting held on McKimly hill. Two members were added to the scout roster.

The Woman's club of Roscoe cast the deciding vote at a meeting held in East Hollywood when a plank for more water for the San Fernando valley was written into the platform of the candidates for councilmen from district No. 1. Mrs. Howard Climie of Vineland was the Woman's club delegate.

That the hot-dog stands and the conglomerate array of other cheap concerns housed in shabby, unsightly shacks strung along the boulevards is a disgrace to Southern California, John R. Prince, city engineer of Los Angeles, urged a re-zoning of districts in an address before the Greater San Fernando valley association.

PUPILS PRESENT 'LITTLE PRINCESS'

Wilson Intermediate Actors Score In Popular Play For Children

Crowded houses enjoyed the production of "The Little Princess," Frances Hodgson Burnett's children's play, yesterday afternoon and night at the Wilson Intermediate school.

Jacqueline Esteck, in the leading role made an appealing Sarah Crew and the supporting cast proved a credit to the school and Miss Ada Salstrom, who directed the play.

The story tells of a little rich girl, whose days at boarding school end suddenly with the death of her father. She carries her vivid imagination with her to her attic place till she is rescued by "a friend."

Doris Hanna, as the "stupidest" girl at school won many laughs; Rebecca Trump as "Lotty" also deserves much credit for her work.

Other girls in the cast were Marion Heare, Marion Whitmore, Temple, Cora Bullock and Evelyn Mortensen. Helen Wenzel played the part of "Miss Amelia" and Marjorie Jeckel, as the stern "Miss Minchin" portrayed the cruel teacher. Betty Goodrich as "Mrs. Carmichael" and Jean Hall, Mabel Mercer and Dorothy Thompson made a very happy family group.

Boys Take Honors
Boys of the cast carried off honors. Harold Moodle, the rich Englishman put real pathos into the part of the invalid who searched for the little girl. George Franklin and Robert Cory, showed two types of Englishmen. Gordon white, as "Ram Dass," the picturesque Hindu and Gilbert Eckles the polish gentleman and Harold Cabellero, as the little boy were good.

Much credit should be given Marguerite Gill, who played "Becky," the scullery maid, and easily took first place among the young actors. Other characters were Grace Pollock, the maid, and Edgar Blue, a servant.

Preceding the first act "Nine Jolly Pirates" sang "The Pirate King" and "I Am the King of the Outlaws" in fear-inspiring costumes. Earl Feeley was the soloist and the chorus men were: Noble Hampton, Robert Sterling, Jack Anderson, William Gray, John Meddick, James Bobbitt, John Olson and Rex Morthland.

The school orchestra played with Rex Morthland leading. Elizabeth Kurjian, pianist, a member of the A-8 class played.

'MANNA' CAST ON 'AIR' LAST NIGHT

Dobinson Players Put On Program From Warner
Bros.' Studio

The Dobinson Players, on a few hours' notice, put on the program for Warner Brothers' broadcasting station, KFWB, in Hollywood last night. Those who took part were Director Fred J. Butler, who gave a ten-minute talk, reciting the history of the Dobinson players and the Glendale Playhouse, and telling briefly the story of "Manna," the present attraction; Captain Michael J. Phillips, the advertising manager of the Playhouse; Mrs. Beatrice Cavanah of Glendale, mezzo-soprano, and her husband, Howard Cavanah, tenor; Miss Florence Wilbur, former director of the Community Arts Players of Santa Barbara, and Miss Myranna Richards, who sings so well in the play.

Miss Richards gave two of the selections which she sings in "Manna," and the Salvation Army also gave their number from the second episode. The program was built, however, about Episode III, in the Martin home, in which "Bye Bye Martin," Mary I. Alpaugh, and "Jerry Martin," William H. Stephens, give the act in its entirety. In this act it is revealed how the "manna" that "Peter" throws out the hospital window saved their lives from shipwreck.

Incidentally Glendale received some valuable advertising, as the announcer stressed that the Playhouse and the Dobinson Players are located in Glendale.

RUSSIAN ARTISTS TO APPEAR HERE

Imperial Musicians To Give Series of Concerts At Glendale Theatre

Fourteen Russian artists who escaped when the White army lost its last hold and the Red army swept over Russia, are to appear at the Glendale theatre for five days, commencing tomorrow. They comprise Dobrohoff's imperial balalaika orchestra, under the direction of Alexander Dobrohoff, former leader of the Russian Imperial orchestra and musical instructor in the household of the late czar in old St. Petersburg.

The soul of the orchestra is Dobrohoff himself, the director and solo musician. Slender, sensitive, with fiery eyes and the gentlest smile and voice, he calls his orchestra members "my sons," and scolds them and chides them into doing their best. They were, most of them, pupils of Dobrohoff in Russia ten years ago before the revolution. He gathered them together last spring to start his orchestra to bring an art to America that is truly Russian. No native instruments were available. So he made them all with his own hands. They are triangular in shape, varying in size from the small ukelele to the cello. Each has three strings.

Burlesque Dance
An inimitable burlesque peasant dance is to be introduced by a former captain in the czar's army, as a country bumpkin, with Helen Verdi, one of Russia's best known actresses, as his rustic sweetheart. Boris Kairrow will sing the "Volga Boatman" song in a setting of flowing water. Miss Nita Lorraine, a talented Russian dancer, does the pisonoc steps with marvelous celerity.

The entire offering will be one of exceptional merit and is different from the conventional turn. Each member of the orchestra had a difficult time to get to America during the revolution, but they are here, Glendale will find them the best of entertainers.

On the scene will be presented "The Mad Whirl" with May McAvoy, Jack Mulhall, Barbara Bedford, Myrtle Stedman and George Fawcett. The film is full of wholesome romance; a most gripping dramatic production.

'GREAT DIVIDE' IS NEXT AT GATEWAY

Meighan's "Coming Through"
Last Time Tonight; Next Week's Program

Thomas Meighan in "Coming Through" shows for the last time tonight at the Gateway theatre. This is a smashing drama with the well-known Meighan force. Lila Lee heads the supporting cast.

The bill for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday will be "The Great Divide," with Alice Terry, Conway Tearse and Huntley Gordon. This is a famous romance of the west. It is lauded as America's most celebrated love story and is taken from the stage success of the same name.

Gold Greedy

Evelyn Brent, owner of dance hall and poor reputation, in "Plunderer" at Glendale theatre.

Mostly of gold and greed for gold is the Fox picture "The Plunderer" which opened yesterday and closes tonight at the Glendale theatre.

Mine disasters, thrilling rescues, great storms, secret tunnels, bombs, strikes, dance hall riots and fist battles are some of the exciting ingredients which go into its making.

While on the stage are five acts of exceptional vaudeville, including Maxwell-Fields & Co., under the billing of "Melody and Rhythm." Melodies galore are sung and played by this inimitable company with saxophone, violin and piano. Special scenic settings are carried that enhance the offering immeasurably.

Dave Rafael, one of the leading ventriloquists of the country, has creative ability and showmanship. Each season he introduces a new act that surpasses all previous efforts. This year it is "On the Corner," where he introduces five mechanical figures all life size. He is assisted by Miss Vera Walton, considered one of the best impersonators in her line. In addition to the high-powered monologue there is a special stage setting and electrical effects that stamp "On the Corner" the acme of ventriloquial novelties of the season.

Harry Maxwell and Will Stone, in songs and comedy chatter are hits of the bill. Both sinners possess voices of unusual quality. Maxwell at the piano has a high lyric tenor while Stone is more adept in singing blue and character numbers. Prevost & Goulet in "A Vaudeville Melange" mix up comedy acrobatics with some clever stepping and for good measure pour in a fast line of chatter. Then they throw in a little extra change in the way of musical selections on steel guitar and piano.

Austin & Delaney, two of vaudeville's cleverest, offered to the two colored bell hops in "The Syncope Hotel." One of the boys is the dapper, wise little darkey. The other is a slouchy, slow-going, shuffling negro. They include in their program bits of eccentric dancing, songs and an imitation jazz band.

'Marrying Judges' May Be Hit By New Ruling

LOS ANGELES, April 4.—County justices and judges who make a practice of accepting fees for marrying couples are affected by an opinion handed down today by County Counsel Bishop at the request of the board of supervisors. Bishop stated that he believed section 94 of the penal code might be invoked by the supervisors who are conducting an investigation into the alleged system of agents guiding couples to certain dignitaries of the bench to be married. The code section classifies as a misdemeanor the action of any judicial officer who accepts any gratuity for any official action, except such fees as may be authorized by law.

STAGING PLAY HAS ITS DIFFICULTIES

So Says Director Butler Of Dobinson Players In Describing 'Manna'

Writing a play is not a simple thing, and producing it after it is written is but little less complicated. No one knows what the public wants—and why. And producers spend anxious hours and much money trying to capture that elusive whim. So every word in a play is of the most profound importance for a single scene—perhaps a single sentence—will spell the difference between a smashing success and a failure.

"Manna," which is going Monday into its second successful week at the Glendale Playhouse, was "tried out" by The Dobinsons last summer in Los Angeles and most of the rough edges were smoothed off. But Director Fred Butler and the author, Miss Olga Printzlau, are still on watch, and are constantly making minor changes.

Strangely enough, the director has no objection to cutting out scenes, though it means weary dovetailing by him and the actors. "Give me a play that's too 'fat' every time," said Mr. Butler. "If you have lots of material, if the play has breadth, depth and backbone and a big story, you can go ahead and cut with an easy mind."

Tire and accessory thieves were busy near Brand boulevard and Harvard street last night.

H. W. Manning, 3552 Awater avenue, reported to police this morning that a tire and rim had been removed from his automobile parked on the vacant lot near Harvard street and Brand boulevard. R. S. Jensen, 133 North Brand boulevard, reported that the battery had been stolen from his machine while it was parked in the rear of the Sam Seelig Co. store, 135 South Brand boulevard. W. L. Foulitz, 111 East Elk avenue, lost a tire to the thieves when he left his car for a short while near the Harvard High school.

P-T-A

Glendale Intermediate
A clever program of original skits was presented yesterday afternoon at the meeting of Glendale Intermediate Parent-Teacher association by pupils and teachers. Before the program Mrs. Mae Rosenberg, president, and other members of the executive board met. Tea and cake were served by eighth-grade girls and teachers in the domestic science department. Originality was the keynote of the entertainment program given in the auditorium and announced by Miss Gladys Sharpe, vice-principal.

The program included the following skits: "A Guilty Conscience," A-8 I; "Crazy Spelling Match," A-7 IV; "A Real Dippy Circus," A-8 IV, B-7 III; "Mama Casaba," A-8 II; quintet, B-8 II; "Before School," B-7 II; "At the Movies," A-8 III; "King Arthur's Court," A-7 II; "Train to Mauro," by three teachers. The flag salute was led by Obed Lucas, president of the student body. Miss Mildred Hughes led community singing. Members of the nominating committee appointed are Mesdames Paul Welsenheimer, Ellis, Phillips and Stamps.

Glendale Federation
Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president of Glendale Federation Parent-Teacher associations, announces that there will be a meeting at 1 o'clock next Wednesday afternoon at Harvard High school. Revision of the constitution is to be the work taken up.

Magnolia
Mrs. William Leash, president, was in charge of the meeting of Magnolia Parent-Teacher association yesterday afternoon at the school. Announcement was made of the next meeting, to be featured by election of officers; an apron social, and the opening of the penny match box. The apron social will be means of raising the association's pledge to the Y. M. C. A. building fund. Every member attending will contribute as many pennies as the measurement in inches around her waist, the pennies to be placed in a large pocket in the apron.

A golden screen, on which needlework artists of Kyoto, Japan, have embroidered figures of two lions, valued at $500, forms the background for the Easter window display. A Satsuma vase valued at $1500, a pigeon blood cloisonne vase, mandarin coats, bronze vase and other works of Japan art are included. Flowers arranged Japanese style, give the final touch to one of Glendale's most attractive Easter windows.

PROPOSE PLAN ON ROAD TAX FUNDS

Glendaleans Attend Joint Meeting When Project
Is Discussed

Proposed establishment of highway and road assessment districts, taxes from each district to be spent on roads within the district only, and to be regulated by the amount of road work necessary, was endorsed by a joint meeting of the Greater Foothill Boulevard association and the National Old Trails Highway association at San Bernardino last night. L. T. Rowley, L. R. Olson and Percy J. Haysold represented Glendale at the meeting.

The joint association also laid plans for a public observance and celebration of the centennial anniversary of the founding of the Santa Fe trail. Officers of the association and representatives from each city, to be named later, will perfect plans for this celebration.

OFFICIAL COUNT OF VOTES GIVEN

Canvass Is Made By School Trustees; Announcement
Of Two Elected

Votes cast in the recent election for Glendale Union High school district trustees were canvassed and placed upon the records at a special meeting yesterday of the Board of Trustees of the district at Harvard High school. H. V. Adams defeated W. H. Yarik by nine votes, and A. W. Tower was re-elected by a majority of fifty-nine votes over C. S. Dunning. The total vote was shown by the canvass last night was: Adams, 676; Yarik, 667; Tower, 699; Dunning, 610.

Despite the fact that the result of the election was exceptionally close, the canvass did not change the original figures.

Evangelistic Services Drawing Big Crowds

The special evangelistic services being held at Central Avenue Methodist church are growing in Thursday night and attendance. The services Thursday night were attended by delegations from Pacific Avenue Methodist church and Christian and Missionary Alliance church. Rev. George Bennard, evangelist, spoke convincingly on the Christians' need of being filled with the presence and power of God. He showed that this was the privilege of every Christian and that God was not only willing but abundantly able to do it. The message was based upon Paul's letter to the church at Ephesus, in the third chapter of Ephesians.

There will be two services Sunday. At 11 o'clock Rev. Bennard will speak on the subject, "The Way of the Cross" or "What it Means to Be a Christian." He will sing one of his own compositions, "Outside the Gate." The theme for the night service will be, "Both Sides of This Question." Special music will be rendered. The evangelistic services will continue over Easter Sunday, meetings being held each night except Monday.

Truck Drivers Warned By Police Chief Fraser

Special orders were issued today by Chief of Police John D. Fraser to motorcycle officers to keep close watch on rock and gravel trucks to prevent their speeding down Sonora avenue between Kenneth road and San Fernando road. Reports to Fraser, he said today, indicate that heavily loaded trucks allowed to attain a high rate of speed down the grade are damaging the pavement to a considerable extent.

Consolidation Rumor Denied By President

R. E. Corrigan, local distributor of Dodge Brothers' cars, located at 116 West Colorado street, has received the following telegram from S. J. Haynes, president of Dodge Brothers, Inc., relative to the recent sale of the concern. The telegram says: "Dillon, Read & Co. have arranged to purchase Dodge Brothers, Inc. The new owners have assured the management that the business will be controlled and continued as an independent corporation, and that any rumors of consolidation with other companies are unfounded; that the policy standards and ideals of the present organization are recognized and approved; that there is no intention of changing them, and that the present management and organization will remain as it is now."

JEWELRY PRICES SLASHED BY COLE

Money-Raising Sale Starts
Today; Will Last Only
Six Days More

Countless attractive articles in the jewelry line are being offered Glendale residents at the big money-raising sale, which began today at the R. L. Cole jewelry store, 106 East Broadway. The sale will continue for one week. As announced by Mr. Cole last night in the display columns of The Glendale Evening News, the sale is a gigantic price-cutting event.

In addition to the various sale offerings, Mr. Cole is conducting a free guessing contest, in which the prize will be a Seth Thomas eight-day clock. Many suggestions for Easter and graduating presents may be found at the Cole store.

RAIN PRECAUTION PROVES OF VALUE

Glendale Officials Satisfied
Sycamore Canyon Work
Prevents Floods

Recent rains and accompanying flood conditions have satisfied city officials as to the worth of the expense of litigation and improvement of Sycamore Canyon road, according to a report today by City Manager V. E. Stone. The road, intended to carry away the overflow from the Verdugo watershed that formerly came down the canyon and overflowed into the east and north end of the city, has handled a maximum of 600 cubic feet of water per second, and if necessary, could contain even a greater amount of flood waters without damage to adjoining property. The water is carried through the city a distance of nearly six miles to the Los Angeles river.

Litigation over the road lasted from 1916 to 1924. Eventually, city officials said today, a tunnel should be constructed to handle the flood waters from the Verdugo hills to carry them across the city about two and a half miles in a westerly direction to empty there into the river.

Members Of Club Hike Over Sagamore Hills

Hiking over the Sagamore hills was enjoyed yesterday by a group of members of the Women's Athletic club. The women motored to Mrs. Virginia Farr's home on Fischer street and from there started on their walk. They gathered many wild flowers and returned at a late hour to Mrs. Farr's home for lunch. Mrs. Farr is chairman of the hiking. Announcement is made that there will be no meeting of the gymnasium class Monday night. The tennis group will meet at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Harrower court and motor from there to Brookside park for the day.

Mr. Mrs. Jos. Wilson Proud Parents of Son

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilson of 328 North Jackson street, announced the birth of a son, this morning, Saturday, April 4, 1925, at the Good Samaritan hospital, Los Angeles. Mrs. Wilson is the daughter of Mrs. T. W. Preston of 330 North Jackson street. Mr. Wilson is past commander of Glendale American Legion post.

A Meeting of Independent Service Station Owners will be held at the Harriett Mae Tea Room, Tuesday, April 7 at 7 p. m.

Please come. There is a great deal to discuss.

Now this is the truth I'm telling you, Mr. Graham—when they gave that child into my arms to take to my wife to nurse, 'twas my very own child, my Katy, that looked up at me out of her sweet eyes. And the wife saw it, too. 'Tis my Katy given back to me! she cried. We kept it to ourselves and never let on even to the child—but we knew. Miss Estelle—I call her proper and respectful, me being the servant and she the young mistress, but in my heart 'tis Katy I call her. Sometimes I've thought the soul of her knew, for I've always been her 'good old Denny,' while no love at all has she had for the master. 'Twas only myself as loved him, God rest his soul! And now I've lost them both, him and her, too, it looks like. 'Tis broken-hearted I am, Mr. Graham, and that's the truth."

Half touched, half amused by the old man's delusion, Graham comforted him as best he could. Then, a sympathetic relation being established, he told Graham that the moment was favorable for some adroit questioning in the hope that Denis might unconsciously furnish some clue to the double mystery that shadowed the Hurst home. Flint, though convinced that Denis was concealing something concerning his young mistress, had failed to elicit anything from the old man, and Graham, not unaware of his skill in drawing out an unsuspecting witness, had a splendid vision of succeeding where the detective had failed. But Denis, shivering deferentially on the top step, proved garrulously elusive. He was more than willing to talk of Estelle, but whenever Graham artfully introduced a question from which he hoped much, the answer, apparently frank and ingenuous, told him nothing. For instance:

"A love affair, did you ask, sir! A love affair! Bless your heart, Miss Estelle had a lover for every day in the week, and two for Sundays." Or: "A German, is it? Maybe, sir, a dozen of them, for all I know. They are all alike to me are Miss Estelle's callers—no different from a swarm of bees round the honeypot. The most I see of them is their sticks and hats."

Graham at that had a sudden inspiration. "Did you ever see a gray fadema among the hats?" he asked sharply.

For the first time he caught a flash in the old man's eyes, and for once his reply was definite and almost too emphatic.

"No, sir, I did not," he said.

But Graham noticed that his hands twitched slightly and he felt that at last he had struck the right note.

"How do you feel about Germans, by the way?" he asked in a casual tone.

Again came the flash in the old eyes; again his hands twitched, then clinched. "I hate them, same as master did," he hissed.

"Especially when they wear gray fademas," Graham prodded.

Denis' face grew suddenly convulsed; his voice rose shrill. "What do you mean, sir? What do you know?" he cried.

"Do you know what he has done with her? Do you know where I can find him? For the love of Blessed Mary tell me, Mr. Graham."

"Who is the person you are talking about, and what do you want with him?" Graham asked quietly.

Denis' eyes shifted. "Sure, sir, the man you've been hinting at, him that wears the gray hat. Who he is 'tis you will be knowing, not me. And as to what I want with him—just this: if so be there is a man like that and he has done aught to harm my Katy, 'tis my two hands at his throat I'm wanting, that's all."

His shaking fingers clutched at the air fiercely. Graham thought the moment favorable for a sudden assault. "You know something about this lover of Miss Estelle's, if he is her lover, that is," he rapped out. "You know he was here with her the night of the murder, you know."

But Denis had relapsed into his habitual attitude of correct impassivity, and looked at Graham with dull, expressionless eyes in which something had already quenched the unaccustomed fire.

"Sure, 'tis nothing at all I know," he interrupted. 'Twas you was meaning something, I thought, and I got excited like. It was just the silly mistake I made."

He reached for the door-knob. "I'll be wanted inside, if you will excuse me, sir." Whereupon he slipped out of sight like a shadow lurked behind the closing door—shadows of crime, of suspicion, of unknown menace, of dishonor, if what Flint believed was true. And all these shadows were gathering darkly round the head of the lonely woman who moved, an alien, through the oppressive solitude of the gloomy house. And he, thought Graham, he who loved her, could do nothing to disperse the shadows. He could not even break down the guard of an old serving man! He looked up at the library windows, vainly hoping that she might come, drawn by his vehement desire.

His heart gave a sudden bound as a hand appeared there, a woman's hand, delicate, white. He would see her if only for an instant! But the hand drew down the blind.

In his uncle's absence it fell to Graham to attend to the many business details incident on Hanibal Hurst's sudden death, and he was thus enabled to see much of Estelle. Sometimes he thought her smile a shade warmer, her tone a trifle less coldly friendly, the welcoming touch of her fingers less hastily withdrawn. At these times he soared on pinions of hope. But the next day he invariably found her more gently unapproachable, more than ever withdrawn, and his wings became as the wings of Icarus.

Graham had changed in these weeks. He was no longer the self-immolating knight, ready to serve his lady without hope and without reward. He wanted his reward, wanted it beyond all power of remuneration. Even though she loved this Arthur Fitzpatrick, she might be won from him, he told himself, by a deeper, stronger love.

Meanwhile, the mystery of Hanibal Hurst's murder seemed no nearer solution. If the police department was working, it was working underground. To Graham's frequent inquiries Flint had but one answer: "Nothing to report as yet."

The excitement aroused by the murder of so prominent a man had died away; the newspapers no longer mentioned it. A fortnight, as De Musset wrote long ago, makes old news of a recent death. But of Estelle Hurst's disappearance the world still talked. Things were whispered over teasapots—things!—a word which, like charity, covers in a different sense, a multitude of sins. Scandal took quick root and flourished. And scandal, being as hard to eradicate as pursley, keeps any name and memory green.

CROSS WORD PUZZLE

COMPILED FOR GLENDALE EVENING NEWS READERS

Copyright, 1925, By The George Matthew Adams Service

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS WORD PUZZLE
The way to solve the Cross Word Puzzle is to fill in the white squares of the diagram with the words which agree with the accompanying definitions. The definitions are numbered to correspond with the numbers on the diagram. Any word defined in the text under "HORIZONTAL" will begin at its number, shown on the diagram, and will extend all the way across to the first black space to the right of that number. That is, the word must begin in the square that contains the identifying number, and extend as far as the white squares continue uninterrupted. Any word defined under "VERTICAL" will also begin in the white space that contains its number, but will extend downward as far as the white spaces remain uninterrupted.

was being made unrelentingly for the missing girl, but no clue to her whereabouts had yet been found. Flint, for some reason which Graham could not fathom, scoffed at the idea of foul play. He had a hunch, he said, that was all. One small circumstance, noted by Graham and conveyed by him to Flint, was felt to have some bearing on the case. Denis had suddenly lost his look of strain and anxiety, and greeted Graham each day with a shadowy smile. Also, since he had begun to smile he had ceased his piteous demand for news.

"He has heard from her; he knows where she is," said Flint. But Denis admitted nothing.

Another odd happening, which again suggested communication between Denis and his young mistress, was the unaccountable disappearance from Estelle's room of various varieties of apparel which Marie, the maid, testified to having seen and handled since the night of the murder. She made no accusation, but her shoulders were eloquent; and it was well known in the household that a state of war existed between herself and Denis.

Graham took a list of the missing articles and communicated this new development to Flint.

"He's in touch with her," pronounced the detective.

But again Denis could be brought to admit nothing, and though unceasingly watch and followed, he kept his secret, if secret he had, tenaciously. The story of the missing clothing spread through the household.

UNCLE WIGGILY

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Copyright, 1925, By The McClure Newspaper Syndicate

UNCLE WIGGILY'S BOW AND ARROW
"Where is that old barrel I saw out in the yard the other day?" asked Uncle Wiggily of Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy one morning.

"Oh—that barrel—why the wind blew it over back of Mrs. Cluck's chicken coop house," answered the muskrat lady housekeeper. "What do you want of it?" she asked the rabbit gentleman, who had already started hopping away.

"I'll show you when I come back," he answered, keeping straight on after his pink, twinkling nose.

When Mr. Longears returned, he carried with him a hoop from the old barrel he had found back of the hen lady's house. This barrel hoop he gnawed in two half circle pieces with his strong teeth, and then he fastened a cord tightly from one end of the half barrel hoop to the other end. The cord twanged with a humming pulled it with his paw.

"Why, you've made an Indian bow!" said Nurse Jane. "But where are your arrows?"

"I'll make them now," said Uncle Wiggily. From a tree he gnawed off some straight, slender branches, and with sticky gum from the pine tree he fastened on some feathers that Mrs. Cluck gave him. Feathers on an arrow cause it to twirl about as it leaves the bow, and so to go in a straight line.

"Now that you have your bow and arrows," asked Nurse Jane, "what are you going to shoot?"

Uncle Wiggily said he didn't know.

"But I'll go look for an adventure, anyhow," he added. Putting a ball of cord in his pocket, to make a new bowstring in case the first one broke, Uncle Wiggily, with his arrows which were sharply pointed, hopped over the fields and through the woods. Just about this same time Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the two squirrel brothers, were scampering through the woods, when they found a piece of cake which some one had dropped. Seeing no one to whom they could give back the cake the squirrels were about to take it themselves, when a queer animal popped out from behind a bush.

"Don't you take that cake!" this animal growled at the squirrels.

"Why, is it yours?" asked Johnnie politely.

"No, it isn't mine, but I'm going to take it!" snarled the bad chap, most impolitely.

"But we found it first," said Billie, gently, "and if we can't find who owns it we may keep it—that's the law of the woods."

"Law or no law, I don't care if you did find this cake, I'm going to take it!" growled the other. "But if you want to ask Uncle Wiggily about it, I don't mind." So he told Uncle Wiggily to come here—all by himself—alone. If he says that's your cake you may have it."

"Come on!" chattered Johnnie to his brother. "That's fair enough."

"When the squirrel boys found the bunny gentleman, hopping through the woods with his bow and arrows, and told him what had happened, the bunny asked: "Is it the Bob Cat?"

"No," answered Johnnie, "this animal has a long tail. It can't be the Bob Cat, for he has a short tail."

"I'll take a look," said Mr. Longears. Carefully he crept up to where the strange animal sat near the piece of cake, with his back toward it. And as soon as Uncle Wiggily looked he knew it was the Bob Cat. Only the unpleasant fellow had fastened a lot of loose chicken feathers to his silly little tail, making it appear very long.

"I'll fool him!" whispered Uncle Wiggily to the squirrels. The bunny gentleman fastened a long string to one of his arrows. Then he shot the arrow from his bow through the air, so that the arrow stuck in the piece of cake. Then, by means of the string fast to the arrow, the rabbit pulled both cake and arrow back to him.

"Here! What's the idea! What are you doing?" mewed the Bob Cat.

"I'm playing a trick on you—that's what I'm doing!" laughed the bunny. Then he and the squirrels ran home with the cake and the Bob Cat pulled the chicken feathers from his silly little tail and went back to his den. His plan had failed. Once more the bunny's ears were safe.

And if the horse chestnut doesn't try to run away when the jumping jack wants to ride on its back to the moving pictures, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's roller skate.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

YOU CAN GAIN
Mrs. J.—You are underweight because you don't eat enough for your needs, the same as are all the underweighters who have no organic trouble as a basis. Don't heed any advice that tells you otherwise.

You have got to increase your food, but do it gradually. Each day eat a few more calories than you did the day previous, and your stomach will accustom itself to the increased intake.

Yes, you have to count calories. If you count what you have been having you will find that you are not eating enough to support a good sized baby. These enormous eaters among the thin people are as rare as the light eaters among the heavies. I never saw any of 'em in either case.

If you are tall, you should eat more than if you are short; and the more active you are the more you have to eat. Increase your milk, nuts, whole grain breads, cereals and vegetables. Don't try to increase the fats very much because they may upset you; you may find you can increase them a little.

Remember, you have to eat more than you are eating now if you want to gain. Our body tissue is made up of the food we eat!

Yes, exercises are necessary for the underweighters; they will stimulate the appetite.

We recently ran the directions for gaining in the papers. We have a resume of them in a little booklet, which you may have by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ten cents in stamps with your request. Those of you who have sent for this booklet and haven't received it after a reasonable time probably forgot one of these items. Try again.

DRY SCALY SKIN

M.—The dry scaly skin you are complaining of is known as Ichthyosis, or fish skin disease. It is considered a congenital disease, and is probably due to a congenital defect in the development of the sebaceous or oil glands of the skin. There are several simple varieties, one of which you evidently have.

The skin is dry, harsh, scaly and divided off into irregularly shaped figures. It is usually most pronounced on the outside of the legs and arms. The disease is usually worse in cold weather.

THE TREATMENT consists of general hygienic living, correct diet, fresh air, exercises and the free use of warm baths followed with rubbings of vaseline, lanoline oil or cocoa butter, or a 5 per cent sulphur ointment. The daily application of a lotion composed of one-half ounce of glycerine to a pint of rose water or lime water, is also very good. Two or three drops of carbolic acid can be added to this lotion. This glycerine solution I have seen used with great benefit for years. It is used must be persisted in.

Besnier recommends regular gymnasium exercises and the internal administration of cod liver oil. Jackson states that thyroid extract has been used with benefit in some cases, but this should never be used unless the patient can be watched by the physician, as it is a dangerous remedy.

You should see a skin specialist. Perhaps he will use the therapeutic lamps and internal medication.

I think it would be a good plan to go on a fruit diet—(oranges, apples, etc.)—(any fruit can be used) for four or five days; then gradually resume the normal diet.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose stamps in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns as far as possible; if they are of general interest, I don't forget the same. If you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

A THREE MONTHS' TREATMENT

If you are in any sort of good physical condition, try this treatment faithfully for three months and you'll have a perfect skin. I know this sounds like the cure-all patent medicine ads of the '90's, but read, and see how much common sense is in this treatment.

The treatment is internal and external. Every day, take either two yeast cakes, or one tablespoonful of tasteless white mineral oil, or a spoonful of agar agar mixed with your food. This is to clear the system of possible clogged waste matter, a condition often existing unknown to you.

So much for internal treatment. Watch your diet, and don't over eat rich and indigestible foods, and you'll be all right.

For the rest, keep the skin absolutely clean. In the morning, wash with very warm water and the gritty complexion soap I have been talking about here, rinse thoroughly, rub with cold cream, and after a few moments wipe the cream off with a cloth wrung from luke warm water. Dash cold water on, wipe and powder.

Late in the afternoon, rub the skin with cleansing cold cream, then if there are wrinkles, with nourishing cream, and wipe off with a cloth wrung from quite warm water. Dash on cold water and powder.

At night, rub well with cleansing cream (each time, the cloth will come away black) then rub on medicated cream if there are

Lecture Public

The American citizenship department of the Tuesday Afternoon club, announces a third lecture on law by Mrs. Mah Cope land Lineman at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, April 8 at the clubhouse. The public is invited to attend.

Present Play

The one act play "Finders Keepers" by George Kelly, is to be presented in the dramatic contest of the Elsteddod, under the auspices of the drama department of the Tuesday Afternoon club. Mrs. R. E. Chase, former curator of the department, will direct the play. Announcement of the presentation of the play was made at the department meeting yesterday by Mrs. H. C. Vandewater, curator. Mrs. Vandewater reports one of the most interesting and largely attended meetings of the year. Mrs. Max Lynn Green, former curator, read her play "If the Shoe Fits—," which won second prize in the recent Los Angeles district contest. Club members commended Mrs. Green for her accomplishment.

Another feature of the meeting was a talk by Mrs. J. E. Lyon on "Early American Theatres." Mrs. Lyon is one of the best informed members of the club and her talks before the various departments are always greatly enjoyed. The department members were most happy to hear Mrs. Chase give reviews of several of the popular plays she saw on her recent sojourn in New York. She reviewed "Old English" in which George Arliss is starring; "Quarantine" in which Helen Hayes is winning success, and "They Knew What They Wanted." Mrs. A. L. Bryant closed the program by reading her play "Verily," which received much favorable mention in the district contest. Hostesses were Mesdames Dwight Stephenson, T. C. Young and H. W. Ralston.

Home Wedding

Michael V. Sylvia of 835 West Doran street, announces the marriage of his daughter, Frances Myrtle, to Arthur Donald Voges of Big Timber, Mont., the ceremony taking place Thursday, April 5, 1923 at the home of Mr. Voges' aunt, Mrs. H. A. Peterman, 516 State street, Glendale. Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, pastor of First Methodist church, was the officiant. A company of relatives and close friends were in attendance. For her marriage Miss Sylvia wore a dress of sunset silk crepe. Her bridal bouquet was of white sweetpeas. Mrs. Peterman played bridal music.

Mr. and Mrs. Voges plan motor trips to various points in Southern California, before leaving early in May for Montana. En route to Montana they will visit Yellowstone National park. Mrs. Voges has many friends in Glendale, who will learn of her marriage with much interest. She and her father came to Glendale ten years ago in order that he might attend Glendale schools. Last year she graduated from Glendale Union High school. Mr. Sylvia is connected with the Midway Gas Co., which he has served for twelve years. Mr. Voges has extensive ranch interests in Montana, where he and his bride will make their home at Big Timber.

SIX GAMES LEFT IN HOOP SEASON

Next Week Will Be Dark At Harvard High Gym As Players Get Rest

By A. S. HALL
Of The Evening News Staff.

Six games remain in the schedule of the Glendale Merchants' basketball league as the fifth week of play ends. Four of these six games are on the Legion's schedule, with the Radios, Standard Oilers, M. E. church and Christian church as opponents. The other two contests will be the postponed game between the Calla Lily and Christian church teams, and the postponed game between the Radios and the Standard Oilers.

Thus the Christian church has two games to play, so have the Radios, and likewise the Standard Oilers. The M. E. churchmen will complete their schedule when they play the Legion and the Calla Lily aggregation will wind up its schedule with the Christian church game.

The Huli Trucks have finished the twelve-game schedule on top. Only one team in the league upsets the trucks and that was the M. E. churchmen. Several other teams tried hard to do that same little thing, but were as unsuccessful as a flivver trying to take the right-of-way over the Lark or the Owl. It can't be done, with safety.

"In-And-Outers"

One of the biggest surprises of the present season was the showing of the M. E. churchmen. The classification chairman of the Kiwanis or any other service club would have put them down as "in-and-outers", mostly losers. They started the first round by losing to the milkmen. They came back the next week and smothered the Standard Oilers. They lost by a wide margin to the Radios in the third week, rested the fourth week, and celebrated by defeating the Huli Trucks the fifth week. Filled with equal parts of confidence and pride they showed the Christian churchmen what an eastern avalanche is like, to wind up the first round of play.

On the strength of their showing against the league leaders in the first round, and their almost alternate win and lose streak, great things were expected of them in the second round. Visions of a tie for first place, a tie for second place or third at the worst, loomed, but an eclipse, in the way of an injury to Weiss, their punier center, clouded their horizon of hopes.

They made history repeat itself by losing to the creamery crew the first week of the second round. Everybody expected them to come back strong the next week and beat the gas dispensers, but not so, Oswald. The Oilers won, 33 to 18. Down the ladder they went when the Radios electrified them the third week, but they got back in their sphere by winning from the Christian churchmen the next week.

Still Can Fight

Twenty-point margin for the Huli Trucks, everybody opined, when the truckmen and the M. E. casaba tossers took the floor last Monday night. All of this in the face of their previous defeat and subsequent showing. But it was their "in" night, almost. They actually played high class basketball against the truckmen, in fact, were leading strong at the half, but were overcome in the middle of the fourth period and lost, 33 to 28. Regardless of their in and out showing, the M. E. churchmen proved they could put up a real battle against the Huli Trucks and had the league leaders worried.

Only two games were played last week, the aforementioned contest, and the first game between the Radios and the Oilers. These two teams slipped through the first round without meeting, so it was hard to dope out the prospects. The Oilers took the lead in the first quarter and held it until a minute before the first half ended. After that it was soft soap for the Radios, winning hands down, 28 to 14, when the gas pumpers were held to a lone basket in the second half.

Next Week Dark

The Calla Lily crew and Christian church slipped up on their game Wednesday night when some of the churchmen failed to appear, and the postponed game between the Radios and Legionnaires was also slightly shy Thursday night.

There will be no games during the coming week, Coach N. C.

Gibbons Is Logical Heir

St. Paul heavyweight claims crown when it appears Dempsey is going to retire, but he has not met Firpo nor Wills as yet, and upon the outcome of these two battles depends his chance of going higher.

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Written for The Evening News

Thomas Gibbons of St. Paul has claimed the heavyweight championship of the world. That's that.

But establishing his claim to the title is another matter. First of all, Jack Dempsey hasn't said himself that he is through fighting. Apparently he has simply set the title down while he spits on his hands. His busy manager laughs at the rumors Jack has retired.

Secondly, T. Gibbons has not proved conclusively his right to don the mantle which the shoulders of Jacques le Demps now sport.

There are two men in the world who can dispute his right of succession to the throne, Luis Firpo and Harry Wills.

Gibbons has but one claim to the crown—the fact that he, of all men, stood the limit with Dempsey. That, in itself, is a weighty argument in favor of giving Gibbons the first chance at Dempsey, should the champion decide to risk his jeweled headgear at least once more. But it does not prove that Gibbons stands alone as the logical successor.

Luis Angel Firpo knocked Jack Dempsey out of the ring. Harry Wills licked Firpo. Gibbons has fought neither man.

So much for Gibbons' right to claim the title.

Now, as far as Gibbons' ability is concerned, Gibbons should be the next heavyweight champion whether the mantle is wished on his shoulders or he has to fight for it. I believe Gibbons can lick both Wills and Firpo. Both are Hayhurst, president of the league, announced this morning. The casaba tossers will enjoy a week of rest due to the fact that next week will be Easter vacation for the high schools and other schools of the city, and all high school buildings will be closed, which edict means the Harvard high school gym, scene of the bloodiest battles, is included among those "dark" for the week.

The standings at the end of the fifth week follow:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Huli Trucks	4	1	.800
Calla Lily	4	3	.571
Radios	3	3	.500
M. E. Church	5	4	.556
Standard Oil	4	6	.400
Legion	1	7	.125
Christian Church	0	10	.000

SOLONS PLAN TO WIN PENNANT

Buddy Ryan Is Optimistic About Season's Outcome; Adds New Players

By BUDDY RYAN
Manager of the Sacramento Baseball Club.

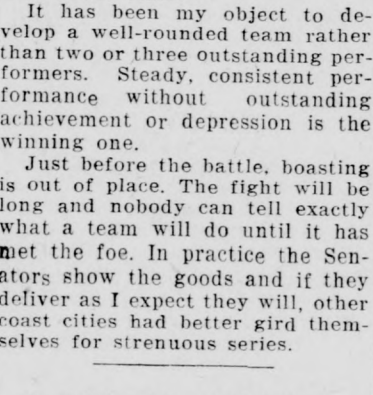

SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Sacramento thus far has not annexed a pennant, although in 1921 and 1922 the Senators almost gave the winners heart failure. This season we expect to finish in front.

Among the new members of the team are Billy Watson, third baseman, from the Western association; Jimmy McLaughlin, shortstop, from Muskogee, Okla.; Wilbur Davis, first baseman, from Okmulgee, Okla.; Clarence Hoffman, centerfielder, from Springfield; Speed Martin, pitcher, from St. Paul of the American association; Ray Keating, pitcher, from the Valley league; Frank Shellenback, pitcher, last year with Vernon; Harry Vernon, outfielder, from Shreveport, La., Texas league; and Tony Vinci, pitcher, also from Shreveport.

Martin Kopp, the best baserunner in the league, will continue to do his share toward winning the pennant for the Senators and Art Kohler, catcher, and Paddy Siglin, second baseman, again will play for the home team.

It has been my object to develop a well-rounded team rather than two or three outstanding performers. Steady, consistent performance without outstanding achievement or depression is the winning one.

Just before the battle, boasting is out of place. The fight will be long and nobody can tell exactly what a team will do until it has met the foe. In practice the Senators show the goods and if they deliver when they will, other coast cities had better gird themselves for strenuous series.

LAWRENCE DERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923

NEW YORK, April 4.—In the report of the alumni committee on the football schedule, a paragraph which seems to have been ignored by commentators.

"We feel," says the report in the course of its consideration of ways and means whereby all conference eleven may have equal opportunity in the matter of scheduling, "that there is a vicious tendency in football."

"We refer to the importance given to the amount of the 'gate.' There is no denying that this is to some extent responsible for existing football schedules and the fact that football supports other sports is no justification for it."

"This tendency is deplorable. It has no place in inter-collegiate football if persisted in it will hurt football badly."

"To speak plainly the athletic departments must be operated on an amateur basis or it will be futile to maintain that the boys who play the games must not play for profit."

This tendency toward commercialism is not confined to any one member; and our criticism is made only because we believe it is the duty of the conference to meet the issue openly."

This alumni committee on football schedules is made up of graduates of the various Big Ten colleges who live in and near Chicago. At the meeting at which the resolutions were adopted were representatives of all conference members except Illinois, Ohio State and Northwestern.

Among the findings is to be found nothing that every one has not known, viz, that conference members are not now upon an equal basis in scheduling games, that coaches of winning teams can select opponents to the disadvantage of other teams, that dates with attractive non-conference teams interfere with contests among Big Ten teams, etc.

What is interesting is that the paragraphs quoted in the foregoing strip the gaudy covering from the argument put forward to bulwark the ever-increasing

DEMPSEY-WILLS BATTLE RUMORED

Bout Will Take Place Next September, According To Latest Reports

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Negotiations that would bring together Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills in a long awaited meeting some time in September are being quietly carried to an effective conclusion, according to reports along Broadway today.

The site of the bout, not more than twenty minutes from Times Square, has been selected, the seating capacity decided and the champion's guarantee mutually agreed upon and all the other little details are being thoroughly washed up, and ready for the company, the report declares.

It is also reported that Dempsey's cut will be $750,000, no less, and that Jack Kearns has indicated that the figures mentioned are very interesting, indeed.

Paddy Mullins, manager for Wills, has also been a party to the conferences with the promoters, who are referred to as wealthy sportsmen previously identified with boxing only in the role of ringside spectators. Rickard, Henderson, De Forrest and others interested in fistie promotion are to be in the outer darkness, according to the report.

The site of the arena is being kept a profound secret, in fact, all those concerned, if any, seem to have gone into the silence.

Jack Curley, too

Jack Curley, who promoted the Willard-Johnson fight at Havana is said to have admitted that he has been retained by the syndicate as its matchmaker, but the next moment his mouth formed a straight line and became the shortest distance between two given points. Kearns turned his back on his usual haunts and Mullins also seemed to have become lost in the great open narrows somewhere between his home and his office.

It was declared, however, that from other sources, equally reliable, information had been obtained that contracts for the arena would be closed within a matter of days, and that an application for a license for the arena would be made to the State Athletic commission sometime within the next several weeks. It was also declared that Dempsey planned to start east around the first of May and that the entire proposition would be settled shortly after his arrival.

Boxing men in general were disposed to pay some credence to the story, if only because it accounted for Mullins' failure to answer the bid of Tom Gibbons for a heavyweight elimination bout at the annual milk fund show. Mullins allowed that angle of the situation to go to default and Gibbons and Gene Tunney at the Polo grounds in June. Now it is claimed that Mullins had the Dempsey-Wills joker up his sleeve all the time and therefore gave Gibbons the run-around.

Tommy Cello let Young Datto stay the full ten rounds last night at the Hollywood American Legion stadium, because Cello lacked enough steam in his punches to put his opponent out for the count. Buck Curtis took a six-round decision over Young Papke. Young Danny and Young Sally slugged four rounds to a draw. Referee Wellman stopped the battle between Dave Taylor and Blackie London in the second round when London was out on his feet.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923.

With his dispatch today John B. Foster completes his analysis of the sixteen major league baseball clubs after seeing them all in action in the process of spring training. His tour of the training camps has extended over a period of nearly six weeks. It carried him from coast to coast and back again, then extended through the south and practically all over Florida. By the time he returns to the starting point at New York he will have traveled a total distance of more than 15,000 miles.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 4.—(En route north from Orlando, Florida).—The Cincinnati club is divided into two factions. One is made up of Bressler, who is playing first base, and the other of all the other players—who are pulling for Bressler to succeed.

First base has been a vexing problem to Jack Hendricks, Cincinnati manager, from the time Jake Daubert passed on last October. "Everybody in the world who had, or knew of, a first baseman, tried to sell me one," said Hendricks. "I went to California on the strength of recommendations from that part of the United States, but I didn't buy the man they tried to sell me because I figured he would hit no better than Bressler in the National league. All the coming minor league first basemen were laid before my eyes, like diamonds in a gem shop, but I didn't take any of them. The more I pondered over the situation the more obstinate I became with myself. 'This man,' I said, meaning Bressler, 'can go through and I'm going to put my faith in him.'"

So there it is—Bressler at first, Critz at second, Caveney at shortstop and Pinelli at third base—an infield with a smash and a wide sweep that will push the Reds to the front this year if they keep going in all other ways. There have been reports of other infields to start for Cincinnati, but this is the infield that will be regular, so Hendricks told the writer.

"How about Caveney, wasn't he to go?" Hendricks was asked.

"We asked waivers but you know we had a right to recall them," was the enigmatical answer, "and Caveney never reported to a ball club in his life as he has this spring. He is another ball player than the Caveney who was down here in 1924."

"And the outfield?"

"Zitsman in left. I am satisfied he can go the route. Rousch, of course, in center. Right field is divided between Walker and Elmer Smith. I haven't decided which it will be, and may be they will be alternated."

"For catchers, Wingo and Hargrave, and we want another. A major league club should have three catchers. The pitchers are the same as last year and I'll back them against any other crowd in the National league."

The Reds have a lot of confidence. Often they have been accused of winning their championships late in advance of the start of the season. It isn't that kind of confidence this year. It's the confidence that comes from feeling that as the National league is constituted for 1925 they have a chance.

Since the accidents that have befallen Chicago they figure their team will be the contending team in the west with Pittsburgh. They think they have the pitchers to pull them through and the infield to back the pitchers.

Zitsman certainly has improved, and he can be depended upon to play a good defensive game, which the Cincinnati did not always do, last year. If he comes through with the bat and if Elmer Smith should develop some of his ability to smash the ball for clean-ups like those he made in the American league, the Reds should be able to hit ten points more than in 1924. Give the Reds that ten per cent and they should go into the first division. If they get started there and can keep the pace they are likely to develop into pennant contenders.

It is a team which has always been one of the ups-and-downs but it has material. Any team that can enter the National league race with a staff of pitchers made up of Sheehan, Layne, Donohue, Rixey, Benton, Mays and Jackie May—the Royal Seven as they call them—may keep the National league on edge all season.

There is fine reserve power for the infield in Dressen, with a sore arm right now. Bohne, who is by no means thrifty, and Fowler who raps the ball even if he doesn't always field perfectly.

But after all, much centers upon what Bressler does at first base—a player who batted .350 in 1924, and a player for whom every other player on his team is pulling. If he starts well and maintains his good start, the Reds will go along with him.

MARTY KANE WINS

Marty Kane was too clever for Jimmy Young in the main event at the Compton American Legion show last night. Kane took each of the eight rounds. In the semi-windup Bud Couglar knocked out Frankie Boldt in the third round of their scheduled six-round go. Teddy Adams knocked out Young Weathers in the first round. Charley Godinas knocked out Teddy Roberts in the second round, and K. Martus knocked out Chief Cyrus in the first round of the curtain-raiser.

MERCHANTS PLAY HATTERS SUNDAY

Thrilling Game Is Expected When Two Teams Meet At Local Park

Glendale baseball fans who flock to the ball park on San Fernando road tomorrow afternoon are going to see a baseball game that should prove unusually thrilling, because two fast teams will hook up when the Glendale Merchants and the Berry Classy Hats take the field. True, the Merchants lack experience, but they make up for that loss in confidence and hard playing.

The Classy Hatters come to Glendale tomorrow with a record of twenty-eight wins and six defeats during the winter season. One of the strong teams the Hatters have put the skids under is the Pacific Electric club. Manager Bacom is preparing for a hard tussle and has had his boys out every day this week throwing the old apple around so they will be in tiptop shape for tomorrow.

The Merchants are putting a lot of faith in their pitching staff. Walter Hylder, who turned back the Buick Autos in the first game the Merchants played two weeks ago, will be on the mound, with "Red" Conkwright, pitching ace of the Three-Eye league ready to take up the work when Conkwright pitched Danville into second place, and last winter won seventeen out of twenty games with Burbank. Next year he will go to the Memphis club of the Southern league.

Lineup of Teams

Nobles will do the receiving for the local team. Lefty Harrison or Bacom will play first base. Parsons will hold down the keystone sack. Acosta or Allen will be at third, with Garcia at short completing the infield. Harding will be in left field, Cherman in center, and George Harrison in right field.

The visitors' lineup will be: Arndt, pitcher; Naghbauer, behind the log; Ames, at first; O'Brien at second, Hendra at third, Rodax at short, Creed in left field, Fiedler in center field and Walters in right field.

ROGERS' BARBERS WIN BIG SERIES

Carlocks Unable To Strike In Crucial Game, And Pasadena Leads

Inability to get strikes in the closing frames of the final game, the Carlocks, representing Glendale, lost the post-season match in the Foothills league to the Rogers' Barbers, representing Pasadena, last night. The Barbers had a margin of 128 pins when the last round of play opened last night, and the Carlocks had cut the lead down to twenty-nine pins by the end of the second game, but finished fifty-five pins behind the leaders. The Hollywood Storage took third place.

The Carlocks picked up one pin in the first game when they rolled 1053 to 1052 rolled by the Barbers. Carlocks cut the lead down ninety-eight pins in the second game by shooting 1011 while the Barbers were getting 913. The Barbers knocked over 920 in the final game while the best the Carlocks could do was 894. The final count for the post-season series was: Rogers' Barbers, 8412; Carlocks, 8357; Hollywood Storage, 8132.

Anstey of the Carlocks rolled high game last night when he got 257 in the first contest. He dropped down to 194 in the second game and 160 in the third and deciding tilt, however. Pete Neise, also on the Carlocks, rolled 235 and 210. Glavin was off form, getting 200 in the first 171 in the second and 174 in the third.

13-YEAR JAIL TERM FACES DR. COOK

Arctic Explorer Convicted of Oil Swindle on Way To Leavenworth

By CHARLES LAYELLE
For International News Service
FORT WORTH, Texas, April 4.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, Arctic explorer and disputed discoverer of the North pole, will leave tonight in the company of federal officials for the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., to begin serving a sentence of thirteen years imposed upon him by federal court here after his conviction of promoting fake oil schemes.

Sixteen months behind the walls of the county jail have made him an old man.

"You fellows don't know how to appreciate God's sunshine because you have never been deprived of it," he said. "However, this with a wry smile—"I will have it better than you when it gets hotter than blazes down here, I will be up north."

Pardon Expected
Then suddenly, "but, I hardly think I will be there 13 years. The court has agreed to allow the sixteen months I have served in the county jail to apply on my sentence, and my attorneys are doing all in their power to have my term reduced. But even if everything goes against me, I won't spend more than four years there—I will be eligible for parole then."

Dr. Cook's attorneys have prepared a pardon petition addressed to the president seeking their release and it is being widely circulated throughout this federal district.

BILL DING HAS NEW ONE ON LINE

Hollywood Sheik Hears It's Good For Chickens, So Wants Dime's Worth

By DONALD R. GILLIN
Service Manager, Bentley Lumber Company.

Sez Bill Ding—We had a good one pulled off down at the office one day last week, and I must tell yer all about it. I can't imagine how many times I have suggested in these here columns about a garage for lizzies, pergola, rustic seat, vine trellis, ornamental window shutters, lumber for a house or a flying kite that you can purchase at our lumber yard, but I missed a bet that I'm now going to tell yer about at this time.

Somebody told a sheik over in Hollywood or Burbank, some place around, that time was good for chickens. He came right down to the office and asked for a dime's worth.

"Whadya mean, a dime's worth of lime?" asked the fat man back of the counter.

"Well," says it, "I heard it was good for chickens and I got a date tonight with a blonde."

So folks, we can not only supply you with building plans, building material of all kinds, but we can now supply you with the nicest packages of lime, all done up in ten cent parcels, by heck. Place your orders early and assure the same prompt delivery that has brought our sudden service department fame.

This message applies to the folks in Eagle Rock the same as all Glendaleans, as we are announcing the purchase of a new yard formerly operated by the William Bettigen Lumber Co. All folks in that vicinity will be cared for the same as in the Glendale district. In the meantime don't forget these editorials I write, for they are worth what one man thought at the time he wrote them and no one can dispute the verities are facts. It will pay you to read the message that appears elsewhere in this paper.

Giant Robber Gang Is Rounded Up In City

last night, according to Swenk's confession to the police here. Swenk has been turned over to the Lincoln Heights station in Los Angeles.

A police car in which Chief Fraser and Sergeant Mercer were returning from a call was summoned by Motorcycle Officer Lamb, who had discovered Swenk, apparently badly injured, wandering in a dazed condition on the railroad tracks. Brought to the station here, he was examined by Dr. G. Kaemmerling, city physician, and treated for cuts and bruises. He told police that he was employed by the California Petroleum Co. Becoming suspicious to answers he gave to questioning, police grilled him. He finally admitted his complicity in the plot to rob Glendale business houses.

Associates Named
He named John A. Jones, H. C. Smith and Joseph Miller, all of the same address, as other members of the gang. He told Chief Fraser he had thrown away a number of papers near the Los Feliz road bridge over the Los Angeles river to prevent identification while en route to Glendale. Swenk was turned over to Officers Rudolph, Hudson and Clark of the Lincoln Heights station.

ANNOUNCE PLANS FOR CHURCH AT ATWATER

Catholic Edifice to Cost $35,000 to Be Erected In Near Future; Residents Attend Meeting Last Night

Plans for a $35,000 Catholic church in the Atwater district were disclosed at a meeting of more than 300 residents of the district, held at the Glendale Knights of Columbus clubhouse last night. Rev. Father Murphy, in charge of the organization of an Atwater parish, told of plans for the church, which he said will serve more than 200 Catholic families in the Atwater section.

A location for the church and parish house has not yet been decided upon, he said. Plans for the church plant contemplate a parochial school in the future. Otto Emme, Rev. Father Thornsby and Father Murphy were the speakers at the meeting. An elaborate entertainment was enjoyed.

Father Murphy announced that the empty store room at the corner of Brookhurst avenue and Glendale boulevard has been leased to serve church purposes temporarily. Masses will be held at this location every Sunday in the future at 8 and 9:30 o'clock, he announced. J. V. Owen, W. J. Curran, Ed Fitzsimmons and others are assisting in plans for the church.

Masonic Officers Named

Appointive officers of Atwater Masonic lodge were named by Fred H. Chapman, master, and announced yesterday. They are: J. E. Noble, senior deacon; John V. Dobransky, junior deacon; Glen W. Jones, senior steward; Ralph J. Hickman, junior steward; Everett E. Bell, treasurer; Harry W. Manning, tyler; Henry Melike, chaplain; and Guy E. Kendall, chaplain.

R. M. Sanders was elected secretary of the lodge. C. S. Decker has acted temporarily in that capacity. P. E. Lipscomb was named chairman of the entertainment committee by Mr. Chapman.

The master of the lodge also announced a change in meeting place. In the future Atwater lodge will meet at the Knights of Pythias hall, Park avenue and Brand boulevard, Glendale. Meetings will be held on the first and second Friday and third and fourth Saturdays of each month.

Pupils Present Recital

Mrs. B. Frances Larsen entertained parents and friends of her music pupils at a recital at her home, 2338 Perilla avenue, last night. Fourteen students participated in the program offered under the supervision of Mrs. Larsen.

Nominate P.-T. A. Officers

Officers of the Atwater Parent-Teacher association for the coming year were nominated at the meeting yesterday at the Atwater school. The ballot presented by the nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Gillette, follows: President, Mrs. E. V. Bacon; vice-president, Mrs. Dale Vaughn; second vice-president, Mrs. Charles Holcomb; recording secretary, Mrs. G. Renneck; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Rowry; treasurer, Miss Catherine Fitzsimmons.

The association voted to revise its bylaws. A committee, headed by Mrs. Bacon, president, and other officers, will undertake this task. A report of the membership committee given by Mrs. Holcomb showed the present membership of the Parent-Teacher association to be 329. Further plans for the festival of school children on May 1 were made at the meeting.

Past officers of the association were special guests at yesterday's meeting. Those invited were Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Peterman, Mrs. Rathburn, Mrs. Korts, Mrs. A. Larson, Mrs. Pennock, Miss Rosalind Gates and Miss Catherine Fitzsimmons. A program, including a number of skits by children of the school, solos by Miss Gates and an illustrated lecture by Mrs. John Cotton, wife of the well-known Glendale artists, concluded the meeting.

Neighborhood Church

Fathers and mothers will be guests of the Sunday school of the Neighborhood Christian church Sunday morning, Rev. J. W. Utter, pastor, announced. Fathers' and Mothers' day was to have been observed last Sunday, but rain prevented.

Rev. Utter announced the topic of his sermons for tomorrow as follows: Morning at 9:30 o'clock, "Following Jesus Afar Off"; night service at 7:30 o'clock, "Put Up Thy Sword." Christian Endeavor Junior and senior services will be at 6:30 o'clock.

Tower's Advertisement Something Different

"Don't vote for me for council," heads a political advertisement appearing in today's Glendale Evening News. The advertisement was ordered and paid for by W. F. Tower, candidate for the City Council at the municipal election to be held April 14. Of course, Mr. Tower has his own idea about the advertisement and a reading of it will explain the mystery. Also, the advertisement contains Mr. Tower's platform. Mr. Tower is a pioneer citizen of Glendale, is a large property owner, prominent in civic and religious work and has a host of friends who are working for his election. Now, then, find Mr. Tower's advertisement in today's Glendale Evening News and read why he says "Don't vote for me for council."

COSMETICIAN IS PENDROY'S GUEST

Max Factor and Vivian Rich, Motion Picture Actress, Appear At Store

Springtime showers that began falling over Glendale early last night failed to lessen the enthusiasm of the crowds that thronged the Pendroy store, South Brand at Harvard street, for the brilliant springtime reception, to catch a glimpse of Vivian Rich, Pathe star, and meet Max Factor, Russian cosmetician, the honored guests.

Flooded in bright lights and with colorful and artistic decorations in display windows and on all three floors, the store was the bright spot on the boulevard. Miss Rich and Max Factor were not in the majority, for it was noted that in the crowd of approximately 2500 persons visiting the store, there were just as many of the opposite sex.

Doll Is Given

Miss Rich and Mr. Factor presided over festivities on the first floor, where there is an effective display of Factor products now handled by the Pendroy store. Miss Rich presented autographed pictures of herself. Each picture bore a number and at 10 o'clock a drawing was held with Gwen-dolyn Parker of 405 West Doran street, holding the number that won the cunning lamp doll, portraying Miss Rich in her recent picture "Idaho."

P. K. McNeil was master of ceremonies on the third floor. He welcomed Miss Rich to Glendale. She was presented with a huge bouquet of American Beauty roses by little Eleanor Marek. Mr. Factor was also introduced. Later dancing was enjoyed on the third floor until 11:30 o'clock. Music was furnished by Millers' International trio.

P. K. Olsen was in charge of the lighting effects, while P. L. Morris, Pendroy decorator, is deserving of praise for his work.

Motorist Has Narrow Escape in Auto Crash

John S. Smith, 314 Lomita avenue, narrowly escaped serious injury when his automobile turned completely over after striking a light auto service truck at Central avenue and Colorado street this afternoon.

Smith, going west on Colorado street, swerved to escape hitting the truck, owned by S. H. Riner of the Auto Service garage, 312 South Brand boulevard, and being driven south on Central avenue by Byron Orr. Smith's machine, however, crashed into the other car. One wheel was torn off and his car turned over.

Although the top and windshield were demolished and the front end of the machine crushed in, Smith crawled out from beneath the wreckage uninjured. The garage car was only slightly damaged.

In zoos the death rate is lowest among reptiles.

REV. THOMAS IS CALLED AS PASTOR

Annual Meeting Of Grand View Community Church Adopts Pension

Rev. George W. Thomas was called as pastor of Grand View Community Presbyterian church at the annual congregational meeting held last night at the Grand View school, sixty members of the church being present. The call of Rev. Thomas as pastor also included the adoption of the pension plan of the Presbyterian church.

Rev. Thomas was pastor of the Community Presbyterian church at Arcadia for five years and was appointed pastor of the Grand View church in October, 1924. For three years Rev. Thomas was pastor of Central Presbyterian church at Bufile, Mont., before the war. During the war he worked for the Y. M. C. A. at Fort Rosecrans, San Diego and was later special secretary for the United States marines.

Elders elected were: George R. Miller and H. R. Cheesman for three years; Stephen Zittow and J. A. Martin for two years; A. Moody and E. Davis for terms of one year. E. Davis, Stephen Zittow and H. R. Cheesman were also elected to serve as trustees.

Newly Elected Elders

The newly elected elders will be ordained and installed at the morning services at the church tomorrow. Reports of the church organizations were given showing encouraging progress in all departments. The budget prepared by the budget committee was adopted. Resolutions of thanks were passed by the congregation to the following:

Glendale Evening News for generous publicity, school board of Glendale for renting of the school for church purposes; Frank Evans, janitor, Mrs. Charles Morgan, Mrs. Stephen Zittow and John P. Ogilvie for assistance in arranging music; Mr. and Mrs. David Black and daughter, Miss Esther, for their services in organizing the Sunday school; officers and teachers for their service and to the following people who opened their homes for prayer meetings, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Holt, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Martin, Mrs. Emma Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hall, Elders A. Moody and H. R. Cheesman were appointed to present the call of the pastor to the Presbytery April 14.

Nazarene Church Plan For Holy Week Given

Rev. Robert Pierce of Los Angeles, will preach tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at First Church of the Nazarene at 417 East Arcadia avenue. On Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock Rev. Henry Sullivan will preach and a revival campaign will begin Wednesday night with Rev. John Hatfield of Hollywood in charge.
